Son Is Born To Colonel And Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh

ARRIVES ON BIRTHDAY OF HIS MOTHER

World's Most Famous Baby Is Born at New Jersey Home of Dwight Morrow

WEIGHS SEVEN POUNDS

No Name Selected By Father or Mother—Has Blue Eyes and Curly Hair

BULLETIN
ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 23.—(UP)—"Charles," it was understood today, is the name selected for the son born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Augustus Lindbergh.
What the middle name of the famed aviator's child would be was not revealed.
Lindbergh went to New York today to greet at a hotel Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who arrived from Winchester, Va., Byrd extended congratulations and Lindbergh replied with congratulations on Byrd's latest exploring achievements.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 23.—(UP)—The world's most famous baby weighs 7-4 pounds, has blue eyes, curly hair and, as yet, only one name—Lindbergh.
The son who was born yesterday afternoon to Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh may get two more names today. When the christening is over, he is likely to be known to the world either as Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., or Dwight Morrow Lindbergh, the latter in honor of his grandfather.
Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh gave birth to the child at 3:15 p. m. yesterday—her 24th birthday—in the Morrow home here, a white house on a hill where she herself was born. One wing of the mansion had been converted into a hospital where the nurse and two specialists who attended Mrs. Lindbergh found every facility available.
Today Mrs. Lindbergh and the child were reported to be doing nicely.

Much Secrecy
Seldom has the birth of a child been surrounded by such secrecy. Reporters who waited at the gate of the Morrow home were unaware of the arrival of the boy until more than two hours after the event. Inside the home, however, the news was being broadcast. A "friend of the family" called the United Press and gave the news, refusing, however, to supply any except the fact that the child was a boy, and that it had been born at 3:15 p. m. and that it weighed something more than seven pounds.

Dwight W. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's father, who went through his successful campaign for the Republican nomination for senator from New Jersey, without once losing his calm and judicious bearing, was reported to be jubilant and excited over the birth of his first grandchild.

Lindbergh, however, apparently retained his customary calmness, and found time in the midst of the excitement to send a telegram to the New York office of the United Press, congratulating Colonel Roberto Fierro, Mexican aviator, on his non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City. It said:
"Col. Fierro's flight from New York to Mexico City demonstrated great personal ability and careful planning. It adds another fine achievement to the record of Mexican aviation."

OIL OPERATORS OF HUNTINGTON BEACH IN MEET

Protective Association Is Organized to Ask For Vote on Ordinance

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 23.—With W. T. Newlin as president, the Huntington Beach Oil Protective association was organized at a meeting of oil men here this morning.
The organization was perfected for the purpose of circulating a petition asking for a referendum on a recent ordinance passed by the city council which will license the business of maintaining, conducting and operating of oil wells and derricks within the city limits.

Circulating of petitions asking for the referendum will start immediately, according to Newlin. Headquarters will be maintained in the office of J. W. Mitchell.
Officers elected at the meeting this morning were Newlin president; J. G. Hayden, first vice president; Jack McDonough, second vice president and A. D. Marshall, secretary-treasurer.

Three committees were named as follows:
Publicity—C. W. Patrick, chairman; E. P. Sommers and J. L. Cook.
Contact—E. P. Sommers, chairman; J. W. Mitchell, Carl Hankey, J. F. Day and H. M. Hepburn.
Membership—J. H. Gores, chairman; E. E. Beatty and D. T. Halley.
Special Finance Committee—E. P. Sommers, chairman; Jack McDonough, H. M. Hepburn.
The executive committee consists of all officers and the chairman of the various committees.
The motion to circulate the petition was passed unanimously by the board.

According to legal advice the petition must contain the names of 10 per cent of the registered vote of Huntington Beach. It is hoped to obtain the necessary number of signatures to present the petition to the city council at its first meeting in July.

Members of the association declare that the ordinance recently passed by the city council is discriminatory against the small operator in that it will be forced to erect steel derricks instead of wooden construction. They declare the enforcing of the steel derrick clause of the ordinance will work a great hardship on the small operator and give practical control to the larger companies. They assert the cost of a steel derrick is almost double that of the wooden derrick.

GANGSTER SOUGHT IN LINGLE MURDER

CHICAGO, June 23.—(UP)—The combined agencies of law enforcement hunted a suspect today in the assassination of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, on trails that led toward the powerful liquor gang of George "Bugs" Moran and Joe Aiello, two of the "Big Four" in Chicago racketeering.

The suspect hunted was James "Red" Forsythe, henchman of the north side gang leaders and branded a "potential murderer" by a circuit judge when he was arrested last year. Forsythe's name was the central figure of the investigation that has aroused Chicago to a new high pitch in the last two weeks, was given out by the "clearing house" of agencies delving into the murder after it had been printed in the Sunday newspapers.

3 DAYS OF MOURNING

BOMBAY, June 23.—(UP)—Three days of mourning for the volunteer women who were injured in Saturday's clash between passive resisters and native police were decided on at a conference of Indian Trade association representatives and Pandit Motilal Nehru, it was learned today. The conference also decided to extend the national congress' boycotts to include all foreign exchange banks.

36th Birthday Observed By Heir To Throne

LONDON, June 23.—(INS)—With all thoughts of matrimony apparently as far away as ever, Edward, Prince of Wales, England's heir to the throne, today quietly celebrated his 36th birthday. His only formal engagement for the day was a regimental dinner tonight.

And for many the dominant question of the day was—will the prince be the first bachelor King of England since George III ascended the throne a benedict in 1760?
The answer remains one of the greatest unsolved problems of current history. Indications are that the prince is steadfast in his determination to be a bachelor, and even his accession to the throne, in the opinion of those who know him well, will fail to alter his ideas in the matter.

MIDDLE WEST SUFFERS FROM HOT WEATHER

Three Deaths Reported in Illinois, Missouri and Iowa on Sunday

CHICAGO, June 23.—(UP)—The middle west endured another day of temperatures in the 90s and 100s today, but looked forward to showers and cooler weather, promised by the weather bureau for tonight and tomorrow.

Three deaths were attributed to the heat, one each in Illinois, Missouri and Iowa. The highest temperature of the week end was 102, reported at St. Louis. Marks of 90 degrees or more were reached in all midwestern states.

The rush for bathing beaches and pools caused by the heat brought many reports of deaths by drowning. The bodies of four persons were recovered from Reid's lake, at Paxton, Neb. Free ice was distributed in the Chicago slums.
All members of Hook and Ladder Co., No. 14, of the Chicago fire department were envied by their fellows today. They could disregard regulations prescribing summer dress and sit around in their shirt sleeves. Someone stole most of the company's wardrobe during the night.

The heat brought orders to police to shoot on sight all strays; after three children were bitten by stray animals.

CLARA BOW VISITS FIANCEE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 23.—(UP)—Clara Bow, the little "It" girl from Brooklyn, who has done quite well in the movies, was in New York today but no one but Harry Richmond knew much about her visit.

The red haired film star alighted from her train at an outlying station yesterday. The reporters and photographers were at the Grand Central station.

She registered at the Hotel Warwick and later went out for the evening with Richmond, night club star and her oft admitted and denied fiance.

GASOLINE SELLS IN NORTH FOR 13 CENTS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—(UP)—Motorists could buy gasoline in San Francisco and the bay area today for a variety of prices.
Approximately half the dealers in standard brands were holding as best they could to the 17 cent price, established some days ago when "war" suddenly broke out and resulted in the disappearance of the 20 cent signs which were uniform throughout the city.

LONDON NAVAL PACT REPORTED OUT TO SENATE

Committee Gives Favorable Support to Measure By Vote of 16 to 4

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP)—The London naval treaty moved a step nearer ratification today when the senate foreign relations committee voted a favorable report on the document. The vote was 16 to 4 for the treaty.

Today's vote ended a six weeks' fight by a handful of committee opponents who sought to forestall favorable action. The treaty now may be formally reported to the senate at any time to await the extra session at which it will be considered.

Senator Johnson, California, Moses, New Hampshire, and Robinson, Indiana, all Republicans, and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, voted against the favorable report.

Chairman Borah announced he expected to report the committee's action to the senate today in the form of a resolution in favor of ratification. He said there would be two or perhaps more minority reports. Explaining that all senators voting against the treaty reserved the right to submit their views.

Johnson said his minority report was not ready. It will be directed against the treaty as a whole. Shipstead explained he has prepared a minority report objecting to consideration of the treaty until President Hoover permits the senate to have all the related papers.

Borah said the question of some of the secret documents was not closed. He referred to the papers supplied the committee by Secretary of State Stimson which the secretary said in a letter Saturday could not be made public. Borah said the committee might decide to make those papers public.

"I hardly think it would be practicable," he declared, "to consider the treaty at this session but it makes no difference to me because I must be here whether we consider it now or in a special session."

With the treaty properly disposed of, Borah said the committee would meet later to decide whether to publish documents in its possession. He said no reservations to the treaty were offered today.

YOUNG GIRL FLYER DIES OF INJURIES

SAN DIEGO, June 23.—(UP)—Peaches Wallace, young girl flyer, was dead here today after several operations.

While flying a glider a few weeks ago Miss Wallace crashed on Point Loma and the plane was completely demolished. She apparently suffered no injury as a result of the accident. Shortly afterwards she entered a hospital for an appendicitis operation. Complications set in but after several blood transfusions, the aviatrix seemed to be recovering. Her death occurred unexpectedly Sunday.

ROTARY DELEGATES ARRIVE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 23.—(UP)—From far corners of the earth—from east of the Suez and Kalamazoo—there poured into Chicago today the main body of 10,000 Rotarians delegated to attend the silver anniversary convention of Rotary International.

Chicago, where Rotary had its inception 25 years ago, had hearty welcome for the men who came to the sessions as representatives of the service club in 64 nations. The convention opened today with the registration of delegates. Plenary sessions were to start tomorrow and continue until Friday night at the Chicago stadium.

Popular Pair Get Parts In Feature Film

Popularity Contest Will Be Open to Residents of County June 30

WITH THE STAR parts of a feature motion picture offered as prizes to the winning couple, a popularity contest to be conducted by the Fox theaters of Santa Ana and the Santa Ana Register, to start on June 30, and to run eight weeks, was officially announced today.

The picture will be made in Santa Ana and the most popular young man and woman in the county will have the leading parts, they to be elected by votes which will be cast at both the Fox Broadway and the Fox West Coast theaters. Others in the cast will be other winners in the contest.

Rules for the contest were announced today and are as follows:

1. Fill in the entrance blank which is on the theater page of today's Register and which will run continuously for several weeks and bring it, or send it, together with a photo of the entrant or nominee to the Contest Editor at the Fox Broadway or the Fox West Coast theater.

2. Entrant or nominee must be of the Caucasian race.

3. Entrant or nominee must be over 16 years of age and not over 25 years of age.

4. Entrant or nominee must live within Orange county. No employee of the Santa Ana Register or the Fox West Coast theaters is eligible to enter.

Persons can either nominate themselves or any of their friends or relatives, it was pointed out.

How to Get Votes
With every ticket of admission (except children) to the Fox Broadway or the Fox West Coast theaters, Santa Ana, the patron will receive a blank ballot entitling him or her to cast that ballot for his or her favorite. Each ballot will count for votes corresponding

YOUTH SAILS FROM BALBOA ALONE, IN 40-FOOT YACHT, FOR CRUISE OF 2 YEARS

Sailing alone in a 40-foot yacht to the South Seas, Lecia Ross, 22, left Balboa today on a two-year cruise to study native life on the many islands of the Southern Pacific.

Ross, son of Jacob Ross, is under contract for the National Geographic Society of Washington, D. C., and several other magazines to write of his travels. He will take many pictures during the trip of the natives, villages, products and anything else he desires. He has had a wide experience in the literary field as well as navigation.

Making his home in Sacramento, Ross has been spending the past few weeks at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Francis Goepper, 813 East Bay street in Balboa, getting his boat equipped and ready to go. His wife and small son will visit in Colorado while he is gone.

Ross will make a complete tour of the South Seas, touching all the well known islands and ports and many away from the regular steamer lanes. He has not mapped out a definite itinerary but will go where his fancy takes him. His boat, the Lethe, is well suited for ocean travel and he expects no trouble unless a hard storm of unusual proportions comes up on the open sea. His experience, in navigation, however, is very wide and he has been a member of the Alameda Yacht club for many years.

COMMITTEE TO ASK VOTE ON TUESDAY

Arizona Senators Announce They Will Fight Bill On Floor of Senate

NEW REPORT FILED

Minority Report Protests On Allotment Until Arizona Treated "Fairly"

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP)—A minority report protesting against the initial $10,660,000 appropriation in the second deficiency bill for beginning work on Boulder dam, was filed in the senate today by Senator Hayden, Democrat, Arizona.

Hayden demanded that the appropriation be deferred until "Arizona is assured of a fair proportion of the waters of the Colorado river."

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP)—The senate appropriations committee today approved the second deficiency bill passed recently by the house, including the $10,660,000 appropriation for beginning work on Boulder dam.

Chairman Jones of the committee announced he would seek consideration of the bill by the senate tomorrow.

The Boulder dam appropriation was approved over the protest of Senators Hayden and Ashurst, Democrats, Arizona, who have indicated they will fight the allotment on the senate floor.

The total of the bill as reported to the senate was $70,082,850, as compared with $68,185,884 as passed by the house.

Among the new items were $346,000 for extending the work of the bureau of fisheries, authorized under a recent act of congress; $281,305 for acquisition of additional land at Fort Bliss, Tex., and $50,000 for creation of a migratory bird refuge at Cheyenne Bottoms, Kansas.

CHICAGO PLANE IN AIR FOR 14 DAYS

CHICAGO, June 23.—(UP)—The Hunter brothers' hopes for a refueling endurance flight record increased hourly today as their airplane, City of Chicago, dived on its 14th day of continuous flight over Sky Harbor airport.

The sturdy endurance ship completed its 276th hour in the air at 4:40 a. m., C. D. T., today. Shortly before that time the pilots, Kenneth and John Hunter, brothers of Sparta, Ill., dropped a note to field attendants saying "We're good for 500 hours longer."

Assisting in the flight are two other Hunter brothers, Walter and Albert, who handle the refueling plane which "contacts" with the City of Chicago eight or nine times daily. Miss Irene Hunter, sister of the flying brothers, cooks the pilots' meals and watches the gasoline supply.

BISHOP CANNON IN TINKHAM CHALLENGE

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP)—A challenge by Bishop James Cannon Jr., to Rep. George Holden Tinkham to waive congressional immunity for his entire house speech of June 17 is the latest development on the controversy between the two men.

The Methodist bishop threw down his challenge in a public statement prepared Saturday night for publication today. It was in reply to one of the Massachusetts wet issued Friday night, repeating, over his signature, a previous charge made on the house floor.

In his speech Tinkham said, among other things, that Cannon had violated the corrupt practices act in connection with reports on funds employed in his 1923 Virginia Anti-Smith campaign.

PACIFIC STATES LEAD NATION

THE GROWTH of California as a financial power in the nation is convincingly reflected in the announcement today that Pacific States Savings and Loan Company, exclusively a California institution, with a branch in Santa Ana, has become the largest of all the 13,000 building and loan associations in America.

The announcement follows release of that institution's latest statement of condition which shows resources of more than $5 million dollars, said to be a total never before attained in the 100-year history of building and loan in America. According to latest available statistics this is a margin of five million dollars over the next ranking building and loan associations, located in New York City and Indianapolis respectively.

The record achieved by Pacific States Savings climaxes not only a remarkable growth within that institution itself but a general upward trend in recent years of the building and loan movement in California.

Young in State
Although more than eight billions of the national wealth are invested in American building and loan associations, this phase of finance is comparatively young in this state, the first California building and loan association being established nearly half a century after the founding of the movement in America. The fact that California should now attain national dominance in this field is taken as an indication that building and loan here is setting the Western financial pace which in recent years has seen this state produce several of the nation's largest banks and insurance companies.

To Pacific States Savings, however, falls the honor of being the first of California's financial agencies to clearly lead its field.

Pacific States Savings is an old California institution, having been

City Of Honolulu Will Be Replaced With New Vessel

LOS ANGELES, June 23.—(UP)—The steamer City of Honolulu, damaged by fire while lying at her dock in Honolulu last month, will not be reconstructed, but instead a new passenger liner will be built to take its place.

This was the announcement here today by Ralph J. Chandler, vice president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship company. The decision was reached after reports of naval architects sent to Honolulu to make a survey of the damaged liner had been studied, Chandler said.

Insurance on the vessel will be applied on the purchase price of a new ship, the cost of which will be between $4,000,000 and $7,000,000, it was stated.

Pasadena Man Tells Fullerton Police He Is Killer

ASKS TRIAL AS OFFICERS SEEK CONFIRMATION

Telegrams were being exchanged today between Orange county, and Yuma, Ariz., authorities, following the statement late Saturday of Perry W. Ferguson, 30, of Pasadena, that he had committed a murder in the Arizona city in 1923.

Ferguson walked in to the Fullerton police station and informed Sergeant John Gregory that he had killed a man named Martinez and that he wanted to stand trial and clear his conscience.

Fullerton police telegraphed Yuma officers and this morning received a message asking for more details. Several murders were committed in 1923 and the Yuma department wanted more specific information, apparently having no record of a man named Martinez.

Ferguson, according to statements to Gregory, has a long prison record, having been in and out of jails and prisons for the past 12 years. He completed a term in San Quentin this month. He was arrested in Fullerton in 1925 for a burglary committed in Santa Barbara.

Ferguson stated that his wife and a sister are living in Pasadena. The man was brought to the county jail from Fullerton this morning.

HUDGENS GETS FINE AND TERM IN JAIL

W. R. Hudgens, 45, Santa Ana real estate man, was found guilty of reckless driving and also disturbing the peace in the Santa Ana police court this morning and was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $250.

The fine was for reckless driving, and the jail sentence for disturbing the peace.

He was arrested Saturday morning by Assistant Chief of Police Sid Smithwick, after he is asserted to have beaten Jimmy Klepper, son of Mrs. Virginia Klepper, of 905 East Brown street.

The fight started, it was reported, when young Klepper came to the aid of his mother, who was having an argument with the real estate promoter.

Neff Inspects County's Roads

The problem of going over 900 miles of highway and apportioning money to projects for the coming year is claiming the attention of Net Neff, superintendent of county highways, and his staff these days. The data is being compiled to aid the supervisors in preparation of the county budget for next year.

SON IS BORN TO LINDBERGH'S LATE SUNDAY

Morrow declined to comment on the child other than to say that "I am the happiest grandfather in the world." He declared he would make a statement today, at which time it was expected the official weight of the child at birth and its name would be revealed.

Many Telegrams

All through the night and into this morning messenger boys were bearing telegrams of congratulation to the Morrow home. The messages began arriving soon after news of the baby's birth became known. Lindbergh refused to comment.

While it has been generally known for some time that Mrs. Lindbergh was an expectant mother, the date of the birth could not be predicted because of the secrecy with which the event has been surrounded. It was understood that the Lindberghs at first engaged a room in a New York hospital and then cancelled it when they decided to go to the Morrow home.

There elaborate preparations were made. One wing of the house was fitted out to resemble a hospital. Morrow was reported to have forbidden servants to use the telephone without permission and to have engaged special operators to stay at the telephone exchange and handle calls to his home. On the night of the New Jersey Republican primary a password was given to reporters who were at the Morrow home in connection with the election and no one was admitted who did not have the word.

Flies Thursday

So far as the outside world knew Mrs. Lindbergh was making no special preparations for the event. As late as last Thursday she and Lindbergh flew from Peterboro airport at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., to Hartford and back. Two weeks ago she and Lindbergh made a test flight in a parasol type monoplane at New York, and it was as recently as Easter Sunday that the Lindberghs landed at Roosevelt field in their Lockheed Sirius monoplane after a record flight from the west coast.

Mrs. Lindbergh's flying activities—which include qualification for a gliding license in California—began after her marriage on May 27, 1929. That event, too, was secret. She and Lindbergh drove out of the Morrow home grounds in an automobile as if they were bound for a pleasure drive. The public had no definite news of them again until it was learned that they were spending their honeymoon cruising off the New England coast in a large motor boat which Lindbergh had purchased.

Their romance began in Mexico City where Morrow was American ambassador. Anne, a quiet, studious girl who made a reputation at Smith college as campus poet, won Lindbergh when he was guest at the embassy on one of his good will flights. The young flier was a world figure because of his sensational flight from New York to Paris. Anne went on several flights with him and was his companion when he had the most serious accident that has occurred in his aerial career since he became internationally famous.

Their plane dropped a wheel while on a flight over the mountains and when Lindbergh brought the ship down at Val Buena flying field, it turned over. He had piled cushions around Anne to protect her from the accident which he knew was inevitable and she was unhurt. Lindbergh, however, suffered a wrenched arm. The next day, with his arm in bandages, he and Anne went for another flight.

When Anne was taken out of the wrecked plane, she was asked concerning the flight.

"Augustus will speak for me," she said.

It was then—when she used Lindbergh's middle name—that the world began to realize that the detached young man who apparently cared little for anything except airplanes had found romance.

It was reported today that Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the flier, might come for a visit here to see her grandson. She is a school teacher in Detroit.

Dr. E. M. Hawks and Dr. Edward H. Deneen, New York specialists, were said to have attended Mrs. Lindbergh yesterday.

with the price of the ticket purchased.

Another way to receive votes for the contestants will be to subscribe for the Santa Ana Register. A three months subscription to The Register will mean 2000 votes for some contestant, a six months subscription will entitle the purchaser to 4000 votes, and a nine months subscription will mean 6000 votes and a year's subscription will get 8000 votes.

Each 35 cent ticket to the Fox theaters here will count for 250 votes, each 50-cent ticket will count for 500 votes and each 65-cent ticket will be counted for 650 votes.

All votes must be cast at the Fox Broadway or the Fox West Coast theater in Santa Ana, in a special ballot box provided for that purpose.

Through the columns of the Santa Ana Register the names of the committee of prominent Santa Ana persons who will act as judges for the contest will be announced within a few days. Standings of the contestants will be printed in The Register from time to time and also will be posted on a bulletin board in the foyer of each theater, as well as being announced to the audience at each performance.

Nominations can be made today. Norman Sprowl, manager of the Fox theaters, announced, he pointing out that there is no need to wait until the contest actually starts.

ARREST LA JOLLA MAN

Fernando Guzman, 33, of La Jolla, was arrested by sheriff's officers last night when they are alleged to have found a small amount of liquor in his home. He was brought to the county jail, where he is booked on a charge of possession of liquor.

SENATE REPUBLICANS UNABLE TO AGREE ON SUPPORTING OF PRESIDENT ON PENSION BILL

Scenes of confusion attended the reading of the president's message at the opening of the senate today. Despite Vice President Curtis' poundings of the gavel, Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, interposed to shout that "the president has been misled in saying the American Legion does not approve this bill." He was prevented from continuing further by an order from Curtis.

Enters Protest

Democratic Floor Leader Robinson likewise protested against what he called "Mr. Hoover's belated objections." Although the measure has been pending before the senate finance committee for weeks, Mr. Hoover's attitude was not previously made known, Robinson declared.

Robinson sought to get a delay until 5 p. m. in the time for voting, saying the objections "impair the bill from beginning to end, and yet we are expected to make up our minds in a few hours." Temporary objection was made to delay, although it was indicated an agreement would be reached later.

A defense of Mr. Hoover's stand was undertaken by Reed, who said the existing veterans laws treat American service men better than any nation has ever treated its veterans.

"There is real need for further relief," said Reed. "but we must consider well before we turn our eyes against the fiscal affairs of the government in this time of stress."

BEGIN WORK ON STORAGE PLANT FOR GAS FIRM

Foundations for the world's largest high pressure gas storage station, being erected here by the Southern Counties Gas company, have been completed, and work on the steel structure is well under way, according to an announcement made here today by District Manager C. E. Rutledge.

The four new high pressure gas holders under construction here to augment the present storage facilities of the gas company, will be 50 feet in diameter and 100 feet high. Each holder will have a storage capacity of 500,000 cubic feet of natural gas, and upon their completion the local station will have a combined storage capacity of 3,150,000 cubic feet. Steel plates one inch in thickness are to be used in their construction.

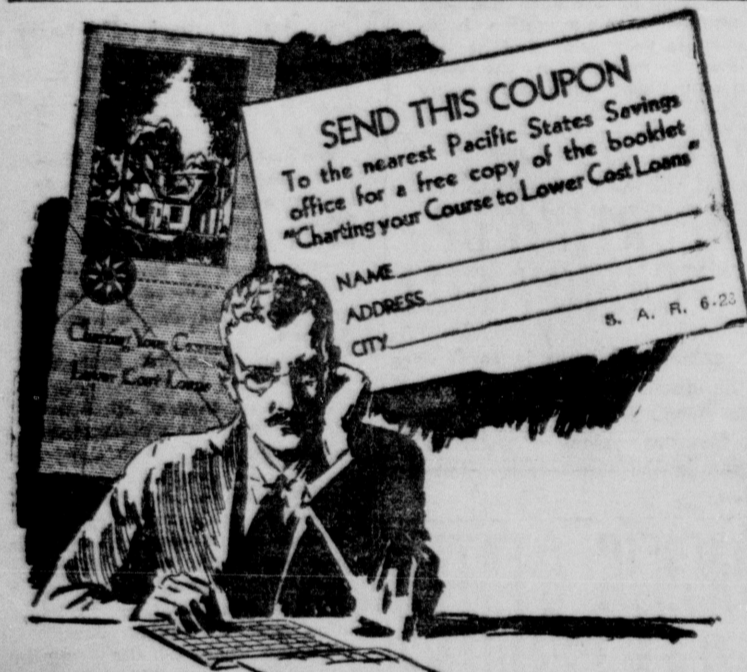

The present activity of the gas company in Santa Ana is a part of its extensive 1930 development program, which includes the laying of new mains, extension of the present distribution system, purchase of new equipment and a general improvement of existing property. A total expenditure of approximately $194,000 is to be made in providing additional storage facilities for this district, and will bring the company's investment in the local station to $366,000.

"In building the four new gas holders in Santa Ana, our company is following its policy of keeping pace with the growth of the communities in which it operates, and providing a natural gas distribution system in advance of the actual needs of the district," Rutledge pointed out. "With such a policy, consumers are assured of an adequate supply of gas at all times."

"All equipment to be installed at the new storage station will be of the finest and most modern design. Further assurance of an uninterrupted gas service to gas consumers will be provided by an automatic control system, which keeps the gas pressure and supply constantly at an adequate level."

A simple way to learn your loan costs . . . send for this Free Book

"CHARTING your Course to Lower Cost Loans" is the name of a remarkable pamphlet just issued by Pacific States Savings for the benefit of the property owner.

By ingeniously simple tables, it enables you, by knowing the size, term and monthly payment of your real estate loan, quickly to find the interest rate you are paying.

And another table shows you the cash saving you can accumulate over the life of your loan by refinancing your loan on Pacific States Savings' 7% basis.

The tables were prepared by a recognized consulting actuary whom we retained for the purpose and who certifies to their accuracy.

Will it be worth while to refinance your present real estate loan? You yourself can answer that question with the help of this new booklet.

It has been published in line with our efforts to help owners of residential and income property, meeting our qualifications, to put their real estate financing on a thoroughly sound and convenient basis, in line with today's lower interest rates.

We will gladly give or mail you a copy of "Charting Your Course to Lower Cost Loans." If inconvenient to call, send the above coupon.

OFFICERS SEARCH FOR ANAHEIM MAN

Sheriff's officers today began a search for Jess A. Moorelock, resident of 829 Janiss street, Anaheim, who disappeared while on his way to San Luis Obispo to start work on a steam shovel, it was reported today.

The man was last seen at a bus station in Anaheim on June 14, the day he told his wife and family that he was going to San Luis Obispo. No news of him has been received since that time. Moorelock is described as being six feet in height, weighs 200 pounds, has blue eyes and dark hair and was wearing a blue serge suit at the time of his disappearance. His wife is Mrs. Elsie Moorelock, of 829 Janiss street.

WORK WILL BE COMPLETED BY NEXT SATURDAY

A resurvey of membership and finances of the churches in Orange county outside of the cities of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton is in progress here this week, according to announcement by Bruce L. Melvin, representing the Institute of Social and Religious Research, New York. He is being assisted in the work by his wife and Professors Sorrell and Reinhardt, the latter two being members of the faculty of the University of Oregon. It is expected the survey will be completed this week.

Pointing out that a similar survey of rural churches was made in Orange county in 1921, Melvin said that the resurvey is being made for the purpose of noting the social changes that have taken place in the period.

"The survey will include the population, finances and equipment of the churches in the rural districts," the director of the survey said. Members of the churches in Anaheim, Santa Ana and Fullerton, who live in the rural districts, will be checked, in order that a complete census may be had of church members who reside outside of the three cities.

WOMAN ESCAPES FROM HOSPITAL

Police today were seeking Mrs. R. M. Waddell, of Los Angeles, who some time last night was reported to have walked away from the Orange County hospital, clad only in her nightgown.

The woman was being held in the county hospital for observation, following her being taken into custody here on June 10, with her young son, whom she was asserted to have kidnaped in Los Angeles, from the boy's father.

The two "bummed" their way here in an automobile and were arrested by Officer Roehm, who had received notice from Los Angeles police to be on the lookout for her. The child was returned to the father by local officers.

Mrs. Waddell had been reported as having been in a sanitarium before, and therefore was held for observation here. She escaped this morning at 5 o'clock, it is thought.

BRITISH KING HONORS FATHER OF SANTA ANA

Coming as a coincidence just 30 years after the pioneer English expedition to the Antarctic commanded by Carsten E. Borchgrevink, father of Erik Borchgrevink, of Santa Ana, Commander Richard E. Byrd and the Norwegian explorer were to receive medals from the English and United States Geographical societies today.

Carsten E. Borchgrevink is a noted Norwegian explorer and was commander of the first expedition to the Antarctic regions in 1898-1900, while Byrd returned from the South Pole just a few days ago. The Norwegian was to receive the "Patron's Medal" of the Royal Geographical society at London, England, by His Majesty, King George V, today at 3 p. m. Borchgrevink has many other brilliant achievements to his credit as an explorer and scientist and has received various other medals and decorations from the heads of European governments.

The explorer was the first to travel on the great Ross ice barrier and to obtain proof of its recession. It is for this achievement that he was to receive the medal today, 30 years later. He and his wife are in London to receive the medal and later will visit friends and relatives in England and Scotland. His son, Erik, is engaged in the real estate business in Santa Ana and makes his home at the Rossmore hotel.

Bandit Holds Up Pedestrian, Takes Signet Ring, Cash

An unmasked bandit held up and robbed H. K. Kilpper, of 404 Hollywood street, Chicago, of $10 in cash and a signet ring, Saturday night at 10 o'clock, near Anaheim, according to a sheriff's office report.

The robbery was made at the point of a gun. Kilpper was walking along the road when a car stopped and a man asked him if he wanted a ride. Kilpper refused and when he did, the man said to have pulled a pistol and demanded that Kilpper turn over his valuables.

After the robbery, the man closed the door of the car and sped away. The Kilpper reported. The bandit car was seen to turn west on Katella road.

IN FIRST RACE

Earl R. Abbey, master calendar clerk of the Orange county superior court, who announced today that he will seek the office of county treasurer.

COUPLE ARRESTED IN BATHING SUITS

Dressed only in their bathing suits, Marguerite Hayes, 29, and her husband, Dennis Hayes, both of 5921 Fifth avenue, Los Angeles, were arrested near Costa Mesa early last night and are being held in the county jail.

The woman is charged with disturbing the peace and the man is being held on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Both were covered with blood, as the result of a fight they are said to have had between themselves. The woman was particularly bloody, according to a report made by sheriff's officers who brought them to jail after they were taken into custody by Ernie Sawyer, state traffic officer.

T. K. Hill Opens Anderson Bakery

T. K. Hill, 27, son of Mrs. S. C. Hill, 116 West Twentieth street, has just opened a new bakery in Anderson, Calif. It was learned here today. Hill, who formerly was in Whittier and Hawthorne, and who attended school in Santa Ana, has purchased his building from the Haimline estate. He remodeled it, put in a large store room and an oven of the latest type and is now manufacturing 1500 loaves of bread daily. Six employees are kept busy at the bakery and the wholesale routes cover territory from Redlands to China.

EARL R. ABBEY IS CANDIDATE FOR TREASURER

Interest in Orange county's 1930 political lineup was more than ordinarily stirred today with the announcement that Earl R. Abbey, master calendar clerk of the superior court, will be a candidate for the office of county treasurer.

Although one of the younger group of candidates and making his first campaign for public office, Abbey has been prominently identified for nearly a quarter of a century with business and official affairs of the county. Political observers today were of the opinion that Abbey's candidacy would win widespread support.

His announcement of candidacy was accompanied by the following brief statement to the public:

"I feel qualified to hold the office of county treasurer because I have been in close touch with county business for the last 12 years and am thoroughly familiar with the work. I have just this pledge to make: If I am elected I will care for the county's money according to the laws of this state and with impartial consideration of every circumstance connected with my duty."

Abbey has resided in Orange county for 24 years, half of that period in Anaheim and the last half in Santa Ana as a deputy county clerk. He has been secretary of the Orange county Republican central committee for the last eight years.

He came to Anaheim in 1910 as manager of the Pacific Telephone company, which position he occupied until 1913. He was manager and later publisher of the Orange County Plain Dealer at Anaheim from 1913 to 1915. In 1918 he was chief clerk to the superintendent of the southern division for the Pacific Telephone company and in 1919 he was appointed deputy county clerk, a position he has since occupied. Last year he was appointed master calendar clerk of superior court when that post was created.

Police News

Pat Hogan, 50, a cripple, was arrested by Officers Smithwick, Swain and Perry near Second and Main streets Saturday night, on a drunk charge.

Charged with issuing a no fund check, J. E. Hester, 25, of the Vendome rooms here was arrested and lodged in the county jail by police officers Saturday night.

W. S. Jackson, 23, of Miami, Ariz., was arrested near San Juan Capistrano last night by George Stinson, state traffic officer, on a reckless driving charge. He was taken before Judge Landell there and bail of $100 was demanded, which the defendant did not make. Deputies Howard and Buckles then brought the prisoner to the county jail.

Elmer Burnet Lane, of 2007 Orange avenue, Santa Ana, reported to the sheriff's office last night that a pistol was stolen from his automobile, parked at the Santa Ana Country club.

Sheriff's officers were called to a store on West Fifth street at 7:30 o'clock last night when it was reported that several Mexicans were fighting. When officers arrived there was not a Mexican in sight, they reported.

Gene Johnson, 703 Lacy street, had his new bicycle stolen Saturday night from his residence, it was reported today.

Local Briefs

There will be no noon meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday but an evening session at the Santa Ana Country club. All members and their wives are requested to be present at 7 p. m. A dance will follow the dinner.

Elmer Steffenson, district delegate from Santa Ana to the International Kiwanis convention at Atlantic City, will leave Tuesday evening from Los Angeles on the special Kiwanis train.

ROKILI SCOUTS ARE ENJOYING OUTDOOR LIFE

With the experienced and new Scouts divided into "Indians" and "Rookies," Boy Scouts from Orange county are having a great time at Camp Rokili. It was learned from Jack Pegues, quartermaster, in a letter to The Register today, according to Pegues, the "Indians" are privileged to live in teepees, while the first year boys live in cabins. Two programs have been formed for the boys by Henry Unmuck, camp director, and Christy Allen, his assistant. John Winn, camp naturalist and activities director, has conducted several nature hikes and has a baseball tournament under way. The "Indians" are leading, 2 to 0.

Friday, the camp moved into the new Pioneer mess hall, which is nearly completed, said Pegues. The "Rookies" were to leave for San Geronimo today or tomorrow, while the "Indians" leave for Dolan lake, returning by way of Mt. Anderson. The boys will camp out at least two nights, the letter stated.

NINE INJURED IN EIGHT CAR CRASHES HERE

A series of eight automobile accidents in and near Santa Ana over the week end, injured nine persons and were the cause for two arrests by officers, a check of the police stations and hospitals revealed today.

None of those injured was believed to have been fatally hurt although some of the accidents were of a spectacular nature.

Henry Espinoza, of 1861 West Eighth street, is said to be in a serious condition at the Orange county hospital, as the result of a collision between two cars last night, at Fifth and Artesia streets. The car driven by Gerardo Fierro, 24, of Laguna Beach, was owned by S. S. Sakamoto. The other car was driven by Ylario Alvarez, Santa Ana.

Fierro was arrested by City Officers Flower and Murrillo and is being held in the county jail for investigation and alleged failure to have an operator's license.

Espinoza was seriously cut about the head. His condition was reported as improved this morning. No one else in the two cars was reported injured.

Ray Moore, of 615 West Santa Clara avenue, was seriously injured about the head at 6 o'clock last night, when a truck he was driving ran off the road in the Aliso canyon, throwing him out. He was found at the bottom of the cliff by Herbert Fiedick, of 923 East Ocean avenue, Long Beach, who brought him to the Santa Ana police station where Moore was given medical treatment.

Moore reported that he was returning from Trabuco canyon with a truck load of chairs and that the last thing he remembered was going down a hill. He was rendered unconscious by the fall, but is not believed to have been fatally hurt.

Norma Lee Squyers, four-year-old daughter of Ray Squyers, of Santa Ana, suffered a dislocated shoulder and serious hurts about the head when the car in which she was riding with her father collided with a machine driven by Rollo Suddath, of 1811 West Fourth street, at Orange avenue and Pomona street last night.

The child was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Ben Garland, of 600 East Fourth street, was run down and slightly injured at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, by a car driven by Bob Merrill, of the Y. M. C. A., here, at Walnut street and Broadway, according to a police report. The man was taken to the Orange county hospital.

C. B. Culley, 38, oil worker of 1234 South Main street, was arrested in the 2100 block on South Main street at 7:45 p. m. Saturday on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, following the wrecking of his automobile. No one was reported injured.

John S. Graham, four years old, was injured when he was struck by an automobile driven by Cleo L. Owings, of 2523 West Eighth street, in front of his home at 124 Franklin street at 1:30 p. m. yesterday. The child was not badly hurt.

J. P. Donovan, 22, of the U. S. S. California, suffered cuts and bruises about the head here yesterday. He was taken to the Orange county hospital. George Cunningham, of 200 West 59th street, Los Angeles, was injured last night when he went to sleep at the wheel of his car and the machine crashed into a ditch near Irvine, it was reported.

He was a patient in the Orange county hospital today, but is not believed to have been seriously hurt in the wreck.

M. Dervantes, Santa Ana Mexican, suffered a broken femur in an automobile accident in Santa Ana yesterday. It was reported from the county hospital, where he is a patient.

PLAN TO RETURN PRISONERS HERE

Following the receipt of a telegram from Kansas City police authorities, expected this afternoon, deputy sheriffs probably will leave here for that city to return Ralph H. Gorman and Hugh E. Doyle to Santa Ana.

The men were arrested in connection with an alleged stock selling scheme in which a number of well known Santa Ana and Orange county people were alleged to have been swindled. The amount of money involved is not known at the present time.

The men were arrested in Kansas City on a complaint made through Mrs. George Fisher, of Anaheim, who claimed that she was defrauded of approximately $1000 in the scheme. The complaint was asked for by Frederick W. Bahl, deputy corporation commissioner of the state.

Officers here do not know who Doyle is, but are of the opinion that he is one of the five wanted and that he is using an assumed name.

Prices At Penney Stores Take Drop

Material reductions in the base prices of a wide variety of articles have resulted in a general repricing of these items by our 1450 stores, with the new levels representing a substantial increase in the customer's buying power, according to a statement released here today by Earl C. Sams, president of J. C. Penney Company.

"Commodity prices, particularly in staple lines, have been declining for some time past," Mr. Sams states, and orders now being delivered to our stores are on a lower basis, enabling us to pass on the consequent savings to our customers.

"There have been notable reductions so far in silk piece goods, silk hosiery and other items which have been affected by the general decline in the price of raw silk. Among these are flat crepes, georgettes, satin crepes and other silks which show very substantial reductions. Some of our own well known brands of silk hosiery are today priced lower than at any time since the war."

Gets Broken Hip While Bathing In Laguna Breakers

Victim of a peculiar accident at Laguna Beach yesterday afternoon while she was swimming, Bertha Clifton, of 44 North Brickley place, Pasadena, was this afternoon a patient in the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

She suffered a broken hip bone, caused when a huge breaker caught her and dashed her to the sands.

Hospital attendants said the patient would be transferred to Pasadena hospital this afternoon.

Pro Sets Record At San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, June 23.—Three golf events featured the San Clemente course over the week end.

Pete Barner, assistant pro, shot a 71 to set a new course record, breaking Tom Murphine Jr.'s 72. The Murphines, father and son, and the Vans, father and son, finished all square after an 18-hole match. San Clemente defeated Escondido in a team match, 15 to 9.

HOY TALKS ON CONSERVATION AT FARM MEET

"Orange county cannot wait for the Hoover-Young commission to move, but must go ahead and put in the money for a water conservation plan, to be reimbursed later by the state," said Engineer W. W. Hoy as he gave a condensed account of the findings of the state in its survey of the Santa Ana river basin, to members of the Yorba Linda Farm center at their meeting recently.

Another feature of the meeting was the appointment by President George Kellogg of heads of committees for the year. F. W. Stahler is head of the citrus committee with Ralph Shook in charge of the fertilizer committee and Sam Paine in charge of pest control. Other appointments were: Avocado committee, E. E. Knight; culture, F. W. Schulte; marketing, L. C. Janeway, public works committee, J. W. Hargrave, chairman; conservation, E. J. Lewis; highways, M. J. Hammon; service, N. W. Renniker; Imperial highway, R. K. Culver; welfare committee, the Rev. Grover S. Ralston, chairman; hostess, Mrs. A. C. Pickering; membership, B. J. Foss; advertising, Curtis Morris, finance committee, Phil Damon, chairman; income, V. C. Dillingham; taxes, Fred Johnson; legislative committee, C. H. Seaman, chairman; resolutions and by-laws, F. E. Moll; proposed legislation, B. M. Selover and administration, E. J. Herbert.

Hoy was introduced by E. J. Lewis, superintendent of the Yorba Linda Water company.

"The state plan calls for an expenditure of 180 million dollars in the state, with $3 million to be applied in the Santa Ana river district," said Hoy. The plan for check dams and spreading grounds was outlined by use of a map showing their locations.

At the business meeting R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the Farm bureau, talked about the difficulty under which the fruit patrol was working, in not having authority to stop cars carrying farm produce, and stated that the Farm bureau desired an ordinance covering this situation.

J. J. Carter reported on the directors' meeting of June 5, and was appointed as a committee to see about asking the directors to hold a meeting at Yorba Linda. R. K. Culver gave a report on the progress of the Imperial highway.

President Kellogg appointed three members of a committee to take charge of the exhibit at the county fair, naming the Rev. Grover

C. Ralston, C. W. Morris and H. S. McCracken. Announcement was made of the next meeting of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon, with H. H. Hale as host, to be followed by a speech, by Bruce A. Findlay of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

TELEPHONE GIRLS ENTERTAIN LODGE

"Thank-you" girls from the Santa Ana telephone office provided the entertainment for the Jubilee lodge meeting Saturday night at the Masonic temple. Allen Lahr was program chairman.

Earl Morrow, district manager here for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, acted as announcer for the musicians. Miss Ruth Le Londe opened the program with a vocal solo, "Romance," followed by a vocal duet by the Cogswell sisters, "Sometimes." Miss Ann Phillips offered "Liberated," by Kreiser, on the violin, and Miss Bobbie McKean sang "Ain't Sweet Mystery of Life." The Misses Cogswell, La Londe and McKean then sang "It Happened in Monterey," accompanied by Miss Lucille Huston on the piano and Miss Phillips on the violin.

DR. WARMER TO GIVE ADDRESS AT CONFERENCE

Scheduled to give the main address at the evening of the opening day tomorrow, Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana, will attend the Southern California annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Long Beach from June 24 to 30.

The sessions will be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church at Pacific avenue and Fifth street, with Bishop Charles Wesley Burns presiding. Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. there will be a reception to Bishop Burns, followed by the annual memorial service at which Dr. Warner will deliver the address. Wednesday will be the world service day while Thursday woman's day.

Friday will be brotherhood day, with Dr. J. Hudson Ballard speaking on "The Psychology of Influence." Young folks' day is to be Saturday. On Sunday, love feast will be at 9:30 a. m.; morning worship at 10:45 a. m. with Bishop Burns preaching; ordination meeting at 2:30 p. m.; anniversary of Latin-American mission at 4 p. m.; conference of Epworth league at 6:15, and evening worship at 7:30 p. m. with Dr. Frank Linder, of San Diego, preaching.

Monday will be devoted to business, with the reading of appointments and adjournment at noon.

PACIFIC STATES LOAN COMPANY LEADS NATION

founded in 1889. Its greatest growth has been within recent years following the introduction to its structure of customer-ownership which was originated by the California power utilities corporations and which has been so successful in their development.

Following the inauguration of the customer-ownership plan Pacific States Savings entered into branch operations and today has twenty-five offices in twenty-two California communities. Not only is the institution America's largest building and loan association in point of resources but also in scope of branches, which serve virtually every section of the state. Through its state-wide operations Pacific States Savings has applied diversification to building and loan.

Total Resources
The present resources of Pacific States Savings are $85,116,409. Starting the year 1929 with resources of $28,407,877, the institution has shown an increase during the past eighteen months of $56,708,532 of which nearly $9,551,518 was due to consolidations. Executives of Pacific States Savings point out that during the past 12 months, the period of the institution's largest growth, but one association with resources of $1,000,000 has been purchased for consolidation, the balance being entirely due to normal development.

Pacific States Savings now numbers among its customers more than 70,000 savers and nearly 15,000 loan customers, which is equivalent to one of every 43 persons in California.

It has been under the guidance of Robert S. Odell, president of the company, that the institution has climbed to its present position of pre-eminence. Mr. Odell became chief executive of the company early in 1927 and is responsible for the introduction of the many progressive factors entering into the success of Pacific States Savings, the majority of which have been pioneer adaptations to the building and loan field.

Along in Class
"This achievement, I feel, could only have been possible in California," said Mr. Odell. "This group of cities which our institution serves is doubtless unrivaled as a class anywhere in the world. The recent census reports which indicate population increases in these cities of from 27 to 362 per cent and the high degree of distributed per capita wealth which they enjoy is after all the basis for acceptance of what our institution has to offer."

"Within our institution we are undeniably pleased to know that California has taken national leadership in this field of 13,000 organizations. But we are far more highly pleased with the strength of our structure than with its volume or resources. This, we believe, is convincingly demonstrated by the high ratio of cash and reserves which our latest statement reflects."

"Pacific States Savings has grown with California and actually considers that its real goal is to continue growing with this state." The Santa Ana branch of Pacific States Savings was recently established at 413 North Main street pending the construction of its permanent Santa Ana home. W. L. Copeland is in charge of the local office as manager.

ONE LESS CASE OF MALADY
With the release today of Russell Jennings, four, of Placentia, from infantile paralysis quarantine, only seven cases remained in Orange county, it was stated today by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, head of the county health department. It is expected that several more cases will be released in the near future and rid the county of the disease. Since the first indications in April, 17 cases have been reported.

W. J. Murphy At Conclave Of Veterans

William J. Murphy of Santa Ana, national commander of the Disabled Veterans of the World war, is in New Orleans today for the annual convention and reunion of the former doughboys.

Attention at the convention is centered around the choosing of the man to succeed Murphy. Major General Hamlet C. Ridgeway, of Chicago, it is understood, is being backed by the powerful California and Illinois delegations.

Murphy was elected at the convention held in New York City last June. Since that time he had been in Santa Ana but a few days, although his wife and son are still living here.

It is understood that Murphy will return to Santa Ana immediately after the convention. Rumors also have it that Murphy is being mentioned in Washington as a possible appointee in the veterans' bureau in the capital city.

DRILLING ACTIVITY FOR BREA
BREA, June 23.—With two-thirds of its surplus storage exhausted, a major oil company in the Brea field, according to report, will shortly begin pronouncement activity. It is expected that more than a dozen strings of pipe will be put in operation by this company. The slump in the Santa Fe Spring field is doubtless a contributing feature in the possible renewal of the Brea field.

MARTIN BEGINS CONSTRUCTION OF NAVY PLANE

Glenn L. Martin, successful plane builder now operating a big plant at Baltimore, Md., launched at his yards there Saturday the first of a large number of navy flying planes he is under contract to build for the national government, according to word received here today by his father, C. Y. Martin.

Martin originally was given a contract for 39 ships and the order recently was increased by 25, according to his father. The contract price, while not known here, is in excess of $2,000,000 for the 64 planes.

When Martin moved his plant from Cleveland to Baltimore a little more than a year ago, he was employing 700 men. The number of employees today is 13,000, a good indication that the former Santa Ana man is meeting with big success in his manufacturing enterprise. It will be recalled that Martin many years ago made his first experiments in the building and flying aircraft here in Santa Ana.

Mrs. C. Y. Martin, who is with her son in Baltimore, underwent a major operation in the John Hopkins hospital at Baltimore a few days ago, it was revealed today by her husband. She is expected to leave the hospital some time this week and return to her home in Baltimore. It is possible the health condition of Mrs. Martin will prevent the usual summer visit to Santa Ana by herself and nationally known son.

Amos 'N' Andy In Person

By James R. Crowell

INSTALMENT NO. 4

We left the boys in a huddle working out a great idea. The outcome of their cogitations that night was the creation of the radio characters, Sam 'n' Henry. The producers of Amos 'n' Andy, they had told the studio manager they would have an idea for him the following evening. True to that promise, they suggested a radio sketch featuring two darkies and submitted the script showing how it could be carried out. They also rehearsed it for the studio officials.

It was a spark of genius. The radio folks snapped it up and immediately thereafter the characters of Sam 'n' Henry were introduced to the radio audiences with in radius of the WGN station. Sam 'n' Henry scored an immediate success, and the boys continued presenting the sketch for a total of 586 nights, their pay meanwhile being advanced to $150 a week. Then their contract with the Chicago Tribune expired. Soon thereafter they joined the broadcasting station of WMAQ, operated by the Chicago Daily News, but as the Tribune owned title to Sam 'n' Henry it was necessary for them to devise a new serial. Amos 'n' Andy were born forthwith, making their first appearance on the air March 19, 1928.

And so we break in again on the boys, to hear Amos saying: "Andy, from this day on you has got yo' name o' Henry an' now you is jes' plain Andy Brown." "An' you ain't Sam no mo', neithe, but you is Amos Jones. How you like dat?"

"And, does you 'memb' dat crazy? I don't unnerstan' what was brung up in my home down in Virginny—dat boy we ust call 'Snowball'."

"Sho, I does. What he got do wid dis?" "Well, we goin' give Snowball a job wid us, Andy—dat's whut. He goin' be Sylvester." "Sylvester who?" "Sylvester nobody—jes' Sylvester."

"Amos, is you dumb or is I crazy? I don't unnerstan' whunt youze talkin' bout." "Kain't you unnerstan', Andy? I means we're goin' revent a boy by de name Sylvester an' I'ze goin' be him."

"Oh, sho, sho, I gits you now. You means you is goin' go back down to Virginny an' see yo' folks, huh?" "No, Andy, I means I goin' play like I'ze Sylvester, an' Sylvester, he goin' be Snowball. Sylvester, I'ze goin' be bof dem an' dey's bof goin' be me. Dat's plain, ain't it?"

CARNERA, GODFREY CLASH Stars, Valencias Await Tilt

WHITTIER AND LA HABRA ALSO MEET TUESDAY

A ball game in June is worth as much as a ball game in August and so Santa Ana and Anaheim today were nervously awaiting their first real "natural" of the 1930 season—a climactic meeting scheduled for the Santa Ana Bowl tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The Stars and the Valencias already have suffered two losses this year but on neither occasion was so much at stake because at no time during the first half of the National League's split season was Santa Ana in the running.

Herb Salveson's rejuvenated charges are very much in the pennant scramble now, however, and so is Anaheim.

In fact, the winner is quite liable to go into indisputed possession of first place as the La Habra, now joint holder of the lead with Santa Ana and Anaheim, plays Whittier and the champions are an odds-on choice to waylay the surprising first half tallenders who started their second lap with victories over both Orange and Huntington Beach.

Ticket Sale Is Heavy
Officials of the Santa Ana club were deluged this morning with demands for tickets. There is every indication that a sellout, if not a record crowd, will jam the Bowl for the final appearance here of the colorful Anaheim aggregation.

Every seat in the big enclosure will be reserved, and as a large block of tickets was shipped to Anaheim, which always supports its outfit enthusiastically, the number for local fandom naturally is limited. About half of them were sold by noon today. The entire section is likely to be disposed of before game-time.

Tickets may be purchased in any quantity at the El Cerrito service station, Third and Birch streets, or Baker's bakery, 214 West Fourth street. They are available at the usual rate.

Anaheim may present a considerably altered lineup, according to word from the Colony. "Doc" Blakeley, hustling shortstop who is lead-off man in the batting order for George Pace's henchmen, may not be with the team for the rest of the season. He is going to Canada for the summer.

New Players For Anaheim
Manager Pace's scouts have signed a couple of new infielders to fill Blakeley's post. One is Murry, a good mechanical player from Garden Grove. The other is Eddie Jabs of Cypress, a brother of Earl Jabs who played a lot of football for Santa Ana and the University of California in days gone by.

"Cy" Mann, giant Stanford football player, also has joined the Valencias and probably will be seen in the outfield. Mann is the Babe Ruth of night ball, a terrific hitter who lambasts all kinds of pitching. The outfielders back out of the park when he comes to the log.

Egan has not decided whether to use Joe Ochso or Al Bushman on the knoll. He probably will give the nod to Bushman who has always been effective against the Stars. Ochso was knocked out of the box when he faced the local club last month.

Joe Cornelius will pitch for Santa Ana, according to a semi-official decision of Manager Salveson. No changes are planned in the Santa Ana lineup which will see Bill Cole at first base, Leavitt Daley at second, "Memphis" Hill at third, Darrell Scott at third and Wayne Nelson, Orville Schuchardt and "Rosey" Merrill in the outfield.

MENE, HAPES LEAD GROVERS WITH BAT

Joe Mene, young southpaw pitcher-outfielder, is leading the Garden Grove Chipmunks with the willow, according to averages announced today by E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, demon statistician of the National Night league baseball club of that city. Hapes, giant catcher, is second and Jake (Lefty) Garr, third. Averages for the first half follow:

	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Mene	30	5	12	40	40	3

WELL, HERE IT IS IN BLACK AND WHITE

Massa George Godfrey and Primo Carnera have a "heavy date" in Philadelphia tonight. They call it a "natural" but about the only natural feature may be the aroma caused by the whole affair. Both Godfrey and Carnera have participated in many exhibitions offensive to the olfactory senses. Things may be different tonight, however, because Old John Law, suspicious, is going to be on the watch for any monkey business. Below are the measurements of the giant gladiators.

FATIGUE FROM HERO WORSHIP MAY BEAT BOBBY JONES EVEN IF NO GOLFER IN WORLD CAN

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, June 23.—That man Jones will be on his way back this week to the land that venerates his name, to pass quickly from the acclaim of a grateful nation—to what? Not into private life, not to the bosom of his family and friends, not back to the tomes of the legal practitioner. He will begin almost immediately the grim business of defending his title of open golf champion of America at Minneapolis and so Jones, having played his heart out to win the two great golf titles of England, is really coming back to face the eternal question of his life—victory or defeat.

It is not my intention to predict for the first time, arrives on Broadway amid the usual glamor and then immediately jumped town to Columbus where he won the American open. But he hardly was under the same strain then. The two British championships were spaced sufficiently to give him more rest. He didn't win both of them and the soul of a winner in golf is torn on the rack. He was four years younger then and youth has a way of living down its difficulties.

So I am convinced today that, in spite of the evidence of the records, it is possible to beat Bobby Jones in golf; that, in fact, his supremacy is menaced even at this moment by the challenger that seldom has to accept defeat, namely, fatigue.

Robert T. Jones Jr., is coming back to America with the satiety of a man who has lived a life time within the span of a few, short weeks. There was only two weeks between the finish of one great tournament over there and the beginning of the other. Yet from the moment that he steps ashore here July 2 to the hour when he steps on the first tee, July 10, Jones will be on parade.

It won't matter that much of his great project lies before him. It will make no difference that, having been the first man in 40 years to win the amateur and open titles of England during the same season, that he still faces the most sensational parlay in all the history of competitive sport—the winning of all four major championships and the 50 to 1 bet with Lloyd's. These considerations will become unimportant because they have to do with the future, whereas the only thing of importance where a celebration is concerned is the past.

Jones, of course, went through something of the same thing before when, in 1926, he won the British

SANTA ANA IN VICTORY OVER ANAPAUMA, 10-7

Santa Ana was one-up on the Anapauma. Rancho today in the "civil war" baseball series between the Inter-County league geographical rivals and was bent on making a clean sweep when the crews collide at the Orange County Fair grounds again next Sunday.

The Merchants pushed three runs across the rubber in the tenth inning to spear D. Eymann Huff's henchmen yesterday. The final score was 10 to 7, the teams having negotiated the par nine innings in a 7-7 deadlock.

With one down in the over-time stanza, "Bomo" Koral walked and went to third on Drysdale's single to right. Schuchardt, who had hit safely four times in five trips, then fanned but "Memphis" Hill doubled to the right center wall, scoring Koral and Drysdale. Hill counted on Ball's single to the same location.

Santa Ana took the lead in the first frame and held it until the fourth when the Huff machine made four runs. The Merchants got them back in the sixth and the teams battled along scorelessly until the tenth.

Drysdale pitched fine ball for Santa Ana outside of the fourth. Tony Riego, recently released by Portland of the Pacific Coast league, caught a fine band of ball for Anapauma. He hit safely three times.

Schuchardt had a great day at bat and afield for the Merchants. The box score:

COLLEGE GOLFERS CLASH

PRIMO FAVORED OVER NEGRO IN BOUT TONIGHT

BY HYPE IGONE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The oh-so-beeg Signor Carnera will meet giant George Godfrey in the Phillies' ball park here tonight, and if the happy-go-lucky Primo knocks Gawge kicking, what then? What will they say? In the bag? How can they?

Certainly George has not improved with age and he can be whipped. Sharkey, for instance, did it when he wasn't a high-toned fighter. Risiko got the decision over him, though it wasn't a brilliant bit of judging.

Jack Renault whipped Godfrey twice and George lost on a foul to "Chuck" Wiggins.

Gawge Not Same Man
They do tell me that old Gawge is not nearly the man he was when he met these fellows and he will have to be right at his best to topple this freak from sunny Italy.

Primo hasn't any great ring technique but he is a whale of a man and he can take it. George can give it, or could. Godfrey is a body fighter and Stribling, who fought Carnera twice, seems to think that if there is any flaw in the fellow's makeup, it might be his middle section.

Stribling didn't hand that out as a tip, but he did think that Carnera took them with much more grace right on the chin.

Both Met Chevalier
If you are looking for a direct line of dope, as between Primo and George, might I remind you that Godfrey knocked out Leon Chevalier in three rounds and Primo still was struggling along with the same fellow for over five. When it was plain that Carnera wasn't going to get anywhere with Leon, somebody ordered somebody to toss in the towel, and somebody did that strange little thing.

Godfrey, to my mind, couldn't possibly be concerned in a bout that might be branded as a shoo-in before the starting bell rang. He must be interested in a possible chance of fighting Schmeling or Sharkey for the world's title some day. Why should he endanger that chance by agreeing to anything crooked?

Carnera Must Watch Step
After all that has gone before, Carnera must watch his step. He

KHJ Broadcast To Begin About 6 O'clock

NEW YORK, June 23.—Ted Husing's blow-by-blow description of the Primo Carnera-George Godfrey heavy-weight boxing exhibition in Philadelphia tonight will be broadcast over the Columbia network starting at 10 p. m., eastern daylight saving time. Pacific Coast fans will hear the report over KHJ, beginning about 6 p. m.

still has a chance to appear before the New York board and plead ignorance of any monkey business in the Oakland fight. It is his intention to state his side of the case and if he could come into the meeting with knockouts over hard-hitting Christner and Godfrey to his credit, who could or would deny him?

Tonight's battle could "make" Carnera yet it could hardly break him no matter which way the cat jumped. Carnera has his now!

He needs a victory over a fellow of Godfrey's prominence if only to set himself right with commissions all over the world. If he smacks Gawge down he is right up there where they can't possibly razz him. If Godfrey spears Primo, then he'll be a second Harry Wills.

The two are going to fill the Phillie's park to the bulging point. The advance sale is far over $100,000 and when Quakertown ponies up that advance bat, you can set it down that something's coming off.

Gregg Wins Shoot At S. A. Skeet Club

Cal Gregg, with 24 hits out of 25 attempts, won the regular Sunday shoot of the Santa Ana Skeet club yesterday.

Herb Carter was second with 22 while C. R. Kearns, Allan Manday and George Myers were tied for third with 19 each. Other scores were Theo. Reuter, 18; Joe Foust, 13; Rane Callens, 12; Joe Callens, 7.

JIMMY SHARP WINS
LOS ANGELES, June 23.—Winning the main 30-lap event by a comfortable margin and placing second in two other events gave Jimmy Sharp prize money in the weekly American Legion races at the Asot Speedway.

IN THE EARLY DAYS JACK KEARNS HAD A FIGHTER MATCHES WITH JOLLY ROGERS—WHO WAS TO FIGHT JOE GANS LATER. JACK'S FIGHTER BROKE HIS HAND, TO SAVE THE $150. PURSE KEARNS FOUGHT ROGERS HIMSELF, AND KNOCKED ROGERS OUT WITH THE FIRST PUNCH.

FIVE 6-ROUND BOUNTS ON NEXT DELHI PROGRAM

Five six-round matches will be offered on the Orange County Athletic club's boxing program Thursday night, Promoter-Matchmaker H. T. Foust announced today.

Some of the district's most popular fighting men will appear on the card.

Milford Berglund, San Bernardino's durable Swede who hasn't lost a fight this year, will headline the show. He will face worthy opposition this time. Promoter Foust signing tough Johnny DeCorsey for the other half of the windup. DeCorsey gave "Wild Man" Macias a terrific battle at Delhi several weeks ago, showing an utter disregard for Macias' purported knockout punch.

Zenaydo Chavez, Santa Ana's greatest fighter and drawing card, also appears on the fistic menu. Foust will send him out against Casey Risko, like DeCorsey a steel-chinned fellow who won't go down the first time he is tagged on the chin. Risiko beat Joe Reese the last time he appeared at the O. C. A. C.

Urban Hernandez of Placentia and "Tex" Mills of Oceanside will offer the evening's lightweight mangle. Mills hasn't shown at Delhi for several months. Hernandez is a first class "club fighter."

One of Orange county's old war-horses, Jack Iman, makes another effort to come back in the fourth and last of the main events. Meeting Battling Dozier of San Francisco, Iman will try desperately to qualify for another main event, perhaps with the veteran Kid Mexico who has been knocking them all horizontal since he returned to the pugilistic harness.

Hugh Shropshire and Vic Pertley, a couple of 200-pounders, open the show.

CITY LEAGUE CLUBS OPEN SEVENTH WEEK

The seventh week of Santa Ana City league baseball will get under way in the Bowl to-night with another double-header, the first half beginning at 6:45.

Monday games match Peak's market with the Courthouse in the curtain-raiser and the league-leading Dennis Printers with the dangerous Richfield Oilers in the afterpiece, starting at 8:15.

Two games also are scheduled Wednesday. The first one pairs the American Legion and the Orange County Builders' exchange while the windup will bracket the Eastern Oil company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. The usual "lones" Thursday is between the Excelsior and the Auto Club of Orange County.

HOOKS and SLIDES

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Gene Tunney walked into Madison Square Garden headquarters the afternoon before the Sharkey-Schmeling thing to register a beef about the 26th-round tickets he had purchased. . . . Surely I ought to get better seats than these, for my application was in long ago, protested the retired champion. . . . At the fight he was more than 20 rows nearer the ring. . . . Airplane beacon lights at the Tempelhof Flying field near Berlin announced the results of Schmeling's bid for the heavyweight championship. . . . Coming as it did only a short time before daylight in Germany, arrangements had been made to flash a red signal if the Teuton won, a yellow light if it was a draw and white light if he lost. . . . And all the while, several hundred would-be Paul Reverses stood ready to ride with the tiddlers.

WHOSE BALL IS LIVELIER?

The debate with regard to whether or not the baseballs used in major league games are livelier this year than before still goes on. It began in April when the first home runs were hit and it continues today while the Ruths, Kleins, Gehrigs, Wilsons, Hermans and Gatts add to their rapidly swelling total of four-base blows.

In spite of the American league having such home run sluggers as Ruth, Gehrig, Simmons, Foxx, Jolley and a few more, the National League totals gradually pull away from the younger circuit. All of which has bred an idea in the brain of the aforementioned Ruth that the pellets thrown to the National league batters contained more "rabbit" than the variety used in the American.

In Cincinnati recently the Yankees went through an exhibition game with the Reds. In batting practice prior to the contest, the Yanks were pitched the regulation National league baseballs, while Cincinnati batted only those with for the American league use. Some of the Ruppert Riders drove their hits further than the Howeymen were able to do. The suspicion in the back of Ruth's head grew.

FROM SAME FACTORY

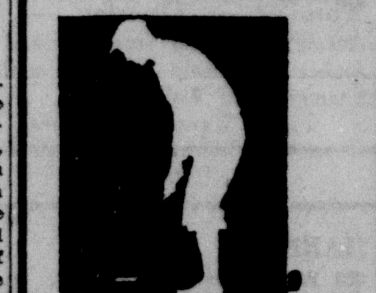

Get this—here is the payoff. Both brands of baseballs are made in the same factory. The Spalding ball, used in the National loop, and the Reach ball for American league use are made in the Reach factory at Philadelphia. The same machines make the cores and wind the yarn around the centers of both brands. Only when the spheres reach the covering department is there a change. The cover of one brand is sewed on with black and red thread and the other with red and blue thread. The quality of the thread is the same. Tom Shibe, president of the Philadelphia Athletics and also an executive in the Reach company.

MISS DANIELSON
AND A. FESSMAN
WED IN ORANGE

ence Dantelson and Albert Fessmann were married at a quiet ceremony at the First Methodist church here last night at the close of the church service. The church was decorated with quantities of flowers and greenery for the event. The service was read by the Rev. Walter E. Cole, pastor of the church and presiding the ceremony, Carl Wenzel sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was lovely in a gown

The bride was lovely in a gown of white net cut on long lines and she wore a close fitting white hat and carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds. The string of beautiful crystals which she wore were a present from the bridegroom.

Miss Danielson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Danielson of North Main street, this city. She is a graduate of the Orange union high school and of the Santa Ana Secretarial school, and has been employed by the Reliance Title company, Santa Ana for the past two years.

Mr. Feesman is an employee of the Union Oil company at Santa Fe Springs.

The young people will spend their honeymoon at Catalina.

Murder Backstairs

CHAPTER XXXV

"Less than five minutes, I should say," Mrs. Lambert answered. "I made a note of the engagement on Mrs. Berkeley's calendar, glanced over two or three belated acceptances, for the dance which was to follow the dinner tonight and added the names to the list of guests."

"Did you go into Mrs. Berkeley's bathroom or bedroom for any reason whatever?" Dundee asked, only the glint of his blue eyes betraying his excitement.

"No, I was in the sitting room only."

"Did you hear anything at all while you were at work there?"

"Nothing whatever," Mrs. Lambert answered positively.

"Was the door open into the foyer between the rooms?"

Mrs. Lambert knit her brows, then shook her head. "I'm sorry, but can't remember. I was in rather a hurry, partly because I wanted to be finished with the work before Mrs. Berkeley came upstairs and partly because I was very tired."

"You wanted to avoid Mrs. Berkeley?" Dundee suggested.

"Avoid" is scarcely the word," Mrs. Lambert answered coldly. "I suspected that the interview in the library between Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley concerned Clorinda's engagement to Mr. Crosby and I was too tired to hear a possibly hysterical account of it. I knew, too, that Mrs. Berkeley needed sleep more than she needed a confidante."

"Mrs. Lambert, have you been happy here at Hillcrest?" Dundee asked gently.

It was Gigi, climbing back into the social secretary's lap, who answered for her. "Don't be an idiot, Bonnie Dundee! Do you think a 'great lady' like my darling Tish would be happy working for another woman, when she'd never had to take orders before in her life?"

"I have been happy—on the whole," Mrs. Lambert answered for herself, her arms closing almost convulsively about the small body curling itself contentedly in her lap. "You did not see Doris, again?" She did not come to Mrs. Berkeley's rooms while you were there?" Dundee went on.

"No, I saw no one as I left Mrs. Berkeley's rooms and returned to my own, but I did catch a glimpse of a silk batik scarf fluttering when I opened Mrs. Berkeley's sitting room door," Mrs. Lambert answered reluctantly. "I recognized the scarf as Clorinda's and told myself that she was going out for a walk. Since Clorinda has told me that you know all about it, I can't believe I have harmed her at all by mentioning the fact."

"Not in the least," Dundee agreed. "But please, Mrs. Lambert, don't let any such consideration keep you from telling anything and everything that may help us to learn the whole truth about Doris's murder. Did you see anyone else at all, either as you returned to your room, or afterwards?"

"No one!" Mrs. Lambert answered firmly. "I finished reading the letter from my friend and went to bed, within 10 minutes."

"You heard no one running down the hall?" Dundee persisted.

"Nothing of the sort. But the hall is very thickly carpeted."

"The servants' stairs are at the end of the hall, just beyond your room, are they not?" Dundee asked.

"Yes. The flight leading up to the third floor is very near my room, but the flight leading down to the back hall is nearer to the now untenanted guest room opposite my room. Those stairs are not carpeted, but the servants are all required to wear rubber heels while on duty."

"Then you did not hear Doris descending from the third floor a few minutes after you returned to your room?"

"No. But I was in my bathroom, taking a bath, within two or three minutes after my return. That is, I began to run the water immediately and when the tub was full finished reading my letter as I lay in the warm water. Even if I had been in my bedroom, I doubt if I should have heard Doris, since the walls and doors are very thick—practically sound proof."

"I see," Dundee agreed, more disappointed than he wished her to know. "Have you anything else to add, Mrs. Lambert?"

"Nothing to add," she replied quietly. "But I want to emphasize what I said before; no solution of the tragedy which in any way reflects on Doris's character or loyalty will be the true solution."

"I am sure of that, Mrs. Lambert," Dundee answered sincerely. "You may go, and thank you very much. You have been more courteous and patient, I am sure, than you think I deserve. But I want you to know that I have not been asking irrelevant questions out of vicious or idle curiosity."

Mrs. Lambert smiled at him suddenly out of a mist of tears and held out her hand.

"One other thing," he detained her, "May I borrow your typewriter to transcribe my notes?"

She flushed slightly. "I am afraid I shall need it, but Mr. Berkeley has a machine in his room which he seldom uses. I am sure he will be glad to lend it to you for as long as you need it."

"I'll show you where it is!" Gigi cried.

The three of them ascended the stairs together, Gigi in the middle, impartially swinging a hand of each.

"I thought you were never coming, Mrs. Lambert!" Mrs. Berkeley called reproachfully from her sitting room door. "My telephone has been ringing constantly. Somehow those dreadful reporters have got hold of my private, unlisted number and they've been driving me crazy. Just to get rid of them I've promised them all an interview at four o'clock and we must hurry to get up a written statement for them, listing my stolen jewels, and—"

Mrs. Lambert, murmuring apologies, joined her employer and the sitting room door closed upon them. Gigi ran up the hall to her father's door and knocked blithely. "Isn't in!" she announced to Dundee. "But come along! It'll be all right."

The detective obeyed, stepping into a spacious but rather severely furnished room. Two broad windows gave a view of the landscaped front lawn and a third looked out upon the rolling, grass-carpeted slopes to the west of the house.

"Dad's a pretty good stenographer himself," Gigi bragged, beckoning Dundee to a large, old-fashioned secretary, upon the open leaf of which rested a portable typewriter.

Rolling into the carriage of the machine were two pieces of blank white paper, with a sheet of purple carbon between.

"Here's a bunch of typewriter paper," Gigi offered, jerking open a drawer and appropriating at least 50 sheets of the good plain bond. "Need anything else? Carbon paper?"

"This sheet in the machine will be enough," Dundee assured her. "What's this? Another of your father's patent lighter-filling machines?"

"Yes," Gigi laughed. "Funny Dad should choose one in the shape of a whiskey barrel, isn't it? See the XXX? But see also the skull and crossbones below, to warn you that the liquor this little barrel holds is most awfully poison!...Ready? I'm going with you and watch you work."

"No, you're not!" Dundee corrected her positively. "Go roll a hoop, infant!"

"I think you're mean!" Gigi sulked, but she was grinning cheerfully again when he firmly shut his own door between them.

His room, which was really Dick Berkeley's study, was a pleasant place, with the afternoon sun flooding it and a crisp breeze stirring the wool-embroidered pongee curtains. Although he was eager to get to work, Dundee stepped to one of the broad, low windows and looked out upon the beautiful kept lawn, breathing deep of the tawny autumn air. Those were literally his first deep, lazy breaths since the body of Doris Matthews had been discovered in the lake that morning.

Suddenly he leaned farther out of the window, surprised at the sight of two figures slowly approaching from the west side of the house. A big, splendidly built man and a slighter, younger one, both in tennis flannels, both swinging rackets as they walked and talked together, in apparent good-fellowship. George Berkeley and his son, Dick!

"Well, if this tragedy has brought them closer together, that's something to the good anyway," Dundee commented to himself, as he prepared to set to work.

He opened Dick's desk, set Mr. Berkeley's portable typewriter upon it, arranged his sheet of notes on one side of the machine and the pad of confiscated paper upon the other.

About to head the paper he had found in the machine with the words, MRS. BERKELEY'S STORY, he happened to look at the edge of the carbon paper projecting slightly from the edge of the two sheets of white paper. The carbon paper was turned wrong side up, so that if he had written, the second sheet would have been blank. Rolling the three sheets out of the machine, he was about to reverse the carbon when he noticed that it had been used but once and that only the date, heading and five lines of an unfinished letter had cut into its gleaming purple surface. He glanced at the reverse printing casually.

Suddenly he uttered a sharp exclamation, then dashed to the bathroom. Standing before the mirror above the basin he held the carbon paper so that it was easy to read what George Berkeley had written:

Hillcrest,
Sept. 27, 1929.

Mr. C. E. Atwood,
Attorney-at-Law,
Greene Building,
Hamilton.

Dear Chris:

There is a small matter which I wish you would handle for me personally, in strictest confidence. As if it were for yourself, I should like you to investigate the commercial possibilities of a small beauty shop or beauty parlor on a good block in Hamilton, getting an estimate of the cost of Dundee whistled, long and low. Here was the answer to at least one of the perplexing questions which Doris's last letter had raised. It was George Berkeley she had meant when she wrote: "It will take buckets of money, of course, but I know where I can get all or more than I need."

Why should George Berkeley be willing to finance a beauty parlor for a girl who had been in his employ less than two months? A girl, who had, innocently or not, captured the love of his only son?

And the date of Berkeley's letter to his lawyer was Sept. 27—Friday. The day Doris Matthews was murdered. Why had George Berkeley not finished that letter?

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

'DEBTS' TOPIC OF SERMON BY LOCAL PASTOR

The Rev. U. F. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, spoke Sunday morning on "Debts." Taking as a text Rom. 1:14, he said in part:

"I am not here to discuss your financial problems. The financial problem is the one big thing that faces the whole world today, and the dollar sign has almost replaced the sign of the cross. The world is run on one great credit system. Some may hold it is wrong to go in debt, I would say only when you do so without the probability of paying according to the old Methodist discipline. You should guard your credit as you guard your character."

"Owe no man nothing but to love him" has been often misinterpreted. To love him, qualifies the first part of the sentence. Owe him no grudge or ill will. The person who will not pay or try to pay their just and honest debts is no Christian and is unworthy a place in the church.

"The text refers to our debt of gratitude, our responsibility to Christ and to others."

"I owe a debt to my parents that I can never pay. They like the partner on the tetter totter, went down that I might go up. I am in debt to the church for life. She took me in, prayed for me, gave me spiritual instructions that have meant everything in shaping my life. She has overlooked my faults and my failures. She could have gotten on without me, but I could not get on without the church. I am bound to her for life by a debt I can never pay."

"I owe a great debt to my country, that has shielded and sheltered me, taught and trained me and gave me equal privileges with the greatest families of the nations of the world."

"To my fellow creatures I owe a debt I can never estimate much less repay. They have bolstered and boosted me. They believed in me and seen more in me than I was or ever will be worth, and whatever I am or hope to be I owe a debt that can't be met by me to the other fellow. They blazed the trail I walk in, they made the place, I inherited it."

"To Christ and to all men, whether they be cultured Greeks or ignorant Barbarians, rich or poor, black or white, young or old, I am their debtor."

"Dr. P. F. Bresee, founder of the Church of the Nazarene, said, 'We are debtors to every man to give him the gospel in the same measure as we have received it.' Jesus Christ placed us under everlasting obligation to all when He who did so much for us said, 'As oft as ye do it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye do it unto me.'"

"BEAUTY IN UGLINESS" IS SUBJECT OF SERMON GIVEN BY REV. OWINGS ON SUNDAY

"In his sermon yesterday at the First Baptist church, the Rev. Harry Evan Owings said:

"I always admire the person who is able to see beauty where the average person does not. Robert Burns was able to weave a poem about the theme of a field mouse. Some one finds that even 'in the mud and scum of things' there is always something that sings."

"Some one also wrote an article about the ugliness of the freight yards in the city of Washington only to take the position that without that ugliness the beauty and majesty of our capital city could never have come into being."

"So we find beauty in ugliness when the ugliness comes as the result of contributing to the beauty or comfort of other people. A mother foregoes her own beauty sometimes in order that her daughter may have beauty and charm and grace. The miner, the lumber-jack, the stock yard worker, the stoker are covered with grime and dirt and blood and make themselves most unattractive but their ugliness takes on beauty when we see that without their service we could not have the conveniences and enjoyments that are ours."

"There is beauty in the ugly when the ugly is merely the forerunner of the beautiful. The inconveniences of the detour, the new structure, but pave the way in their ugliness for the beauty that can come in no other way except through this preliminary ugliness."

"And so when a sculptor sees latent beauty in an ugly stone or a developer sees a lovely landscape that may be brought out of an unsightly place of land, or the desert place is declaimed to become fertile and beautiful, or an unpromising life is patiently brought to nobleness of character we thank God for those who are able to see the latent beauty in the ugly and bring it out."

BEACH LEGION POST WINS AT SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, June 23.—San Diego and Orange county Legion members were entertained with a field day at San Clemente yesterday. Games, field events, a baseball contest, golf, fishing and swimming found enthusiasts. The baby post of Orange county, Anaheim Bay, No. 300, Seal Beach, carried away most of the glory for visiting posts.

The ball game in the morning between San Clemente and Laguna Beach was won by the Donks, 22 to 15. San Clemente took the lead in the fourth frame and was never headed.

Spike Jimenez, San Clemente, and Earl F. Lonia, Oceanside, won honors at golf.

H. Drent, Anaheim Bay post, won the 50-yard dash, Mrs. A. F. Schilling of the auxiliary of that post took honors in the baseball, throwing contest while the apple race was won by J. L. Holland of the same post. To make the day complete the baby post won the tug of war from Santa Ana veterans.

Other winners follow: Mrs. A. Manogian, 50-yard dash; R. Peterson and R. Sites, three-legged race; Mrs. A. Manogian, ball driving contest; A. Manogian, sack race; Bunny Hanson, obstacle race; apple race, Mrs. R. Peterson; cracker race, Tom Duncan; hop, skip and jump, Tom Duncan; pie eating contest, Harry Comber; obstacle race, R. Peterson; 50-yard free-for-all, R. Peterson, all from San Clemente. Earl F. Lonia of Oceanside won the 100-yard dash and the standing broad jump.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING HELD IN SANTA ANA

The Church of Christ at Broadway and Walnut street yesterday had its annual all-day meeting. In the morning Elder G. W. Riggs, of Los Angeles, preached, as he has done almost every year since the establishment of this congregation. At the conclusion of the morning service an ample dinner was spread on tables under the umbrella trees in the yard. The afternoon was devoted to short talks interspersed with songs. The Rev. James H. Sewell, minister, preached a sermon at 7:30 p. m. Elder Riggs based his remarks upon 2 Corinthians 3:18:

"But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

He showed that this passage represents the gospel as a mirror, which reflects the glory of the Lord, and Christians, as well as others, studying the gospel and being guided by its teachings, behold that reflection of the Lord and become more and more like Christ, being transformed into his image. He illustrated the meaning of transformation by the change in the appearance of a diamond in the rough and the polished, brilliant gem; a block of rough marble and a chiseled stone; the appearance of gold when mixed with baser metals and the same gold when refined in the crucible; a lump of clay shaped into a beautiful vase; a caterpillar changed into a gorgeous butterfly. He said these transformations were fitting illustrations of Christ, transforming corrupt and wicked men into Christians, who by obeying the gospel of Christ and allowing His law to rule in their hearts become more and more Christlike in character and life. The gospel is the mirror that reflects Christ, and with that life ever before us in the gospel, our lives are changed into "the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

EDUCATION IS SERMON TOPIC OF REV. HARLOW

At the First United Brethren church at 1101 West Third street, the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor, spoke Sunday on the subject, "Christian Education." He said, "Somebody has said, 'As goes America, so goes the world.' If this is true, then there is a tremendous responsibility on America. Somebody else has said that if the colleges of America are kept clean and wholesome and conducive to the development of positive Christian character, then America is safe as a Christian nation."

"This evidently is true because the teachers, preachers, professional men, and other leaders carry out into their work the spirit and practices of the colleges in which they were trained. How necessary, then, it is that our colleges stick to the fundamentals of the Christian faith and keep themselves free from modernism and other entangling alliances."

"The responsibility which rests upon the Christian college to maintain the highest standards and insist on the highest ideals of living is beyond price, and the good such colleges can do is above expression."

"And it behooves all of the Christians of America and the world to do every thing in their power to support and keep alive and healthy all such institutions of learning. Theodore Roosevelt once said that nine-tenths of wisdom consists in being wise in time. Paul saw the arena into which Timothy was to enter and sensed the preparation necessary to success, and admonished him in the language of my text to prepare himself for the great work God was calling him into."

"If Timothy needed this exhortation in the science of art of literary interpretation especially of the Bible, to meet the exigencies of his day; how much more do we need it today. Education is the proper development of all of the powers of man. It trains the intellect to think soberly and rightly. It trains the heart to feel properly. It trains the will to decide intelligently for the best interest of all concerned."

"Education is the proper development of the four-fold nature of the individual. It is the joint effort of the home, the church, the state and the nation combined, to draw out all the powers of the child and youth. If the Christian makes the best all around citizen, why then do our secular schools train only the intellectual, moral and physical and leave out the spiritual? Hence the necessity of the Christian college."

PAUL'S WORDS ARE BASIS OF PASTOR'S TALK

In the morning sermon, Sunday in the United Presbyterian church the pastor, the Rev. W. H. McPeak, speaking upon the words of Paul to the church in Rome, "I am proud of the gospel," said in part:

"The Christians in Rome had not met Paul, until after they had received and read his letter to them—the Letter to the Romans. They knew, however, who Paul was; that he was a traveler, of leadership, experienced as a missionary, preacher and teacher of the gospel. They further knew that from his contact with the gospel he was in a position to be a competent judge of the merits of the gospel. We may imagine the enthusiastic reaction which this estimate of the gospel aroused in that group of Jewish Christians in the imperial city—shut off from the rest of the world—when they read this statement first hand from the pen of that great Christian leader."

"Was Paul justified in making such a statement of the gospel? Was it something of which he might well be proud? Is it something in which any Christian can be proud? Certainly there is. The answer is in the affirmative."

"He was proud of Jesus Christ, the Man of the Gospel. He was not ashamed of the words, the works, the life, the forgiving spirit, the death, the resurrection and the living presence of the Man of the Gospel. He was proud of the men of the gospel. There was Stephen, Peter, John, Barnabas, Silas, Timothy and that large company of others whom he knew as Christians. They were real men. Paul knew men and when he compared these with some Pharisees whom he knew, Alexander the copper-smith, Felix, and others of the same type—well, there was no comparison. He was proud of the messages of the gospel. Its love, hope, because it inspires men to be their best and promotes the best in the world. He was proud of the method of the gospel. It is no respecter of persons. It is offered to all alike. It opens the way to the whole of life. It provides the only way. For the same reasons every one is justified in being proud of the gospel today."

MAN'S INHERENT INTEREST IN RELIGION IS OUTLINED BY REV. WARNER IN SERMON

"Man is incurably religious. He was made that way. His interest is inherent. He is always asking some question about this faculty of his life. There is a desire to have the most sacred things genuine." These remarks were the keynote of a sermon delivered yesterday by the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church.

"The Apostle James declared that pure religion and undefiled was to visit the fatherless in their affliction and to keep unspotted from the world."

"Pure religion, then, is practical. Churches may have their place, ritual is the present principle by which religion is known, preaching is an assistant, but religion is the common denominator of every day life. It is preaching in action, life at work assuring need."

"Religion is helpful. Any religion that does not have as its main inquiry, what can I do? will never exert a great influence in the world. Jesus said 'Inasmuch as ye did it, ye are my disciples.'"

"To be worthy religion must be comforting. There are times when religion must be critical. Wrongs must be righted. The bold understanding word needs oftentimes to be spoken. But the achieving power of sharp words is terribly limited, while the accomplishing power of comforting words never dies."

"But to have religion as it should be, it must be purely incarnate in all of its expressions. There are plenty of temptations to be less than ones best both in speech and conduct, while even the motives need rectification all too often."

"Great conduct issues only from great motives. To live righteously and godly in this world, we must needs be motivated from another. Jesus is the only illustration. He is, at the same time, the prophecy

REV. GARCIA IS GIVEN HONORS IN CONFERENCE

Re-elected state president of the Mexican Methodist Epworth league and reappointed pastor of the Santa Ana Mexican Methodist church, the Rev. B. E. Garcia was back in Santa Ana today from the annual conference held in Pasadena last week.

The conference was in charge of Bishop Charles Wesley Burns and was attended by delegates from all parts of California. The Rev. Mr. Garcia, who has been pastor at Santa Ana for the past eight years, took a prominent part in the conference.

The local church has increased remarkably since the Rev. Mr. Garcia came here. Eight years ago, the Sunday school had 35 members, while it now has 156. Another branch has been established in Delhi, bringing the total to 137 members. The church also has an Epworth league with 57 members and a junior league with 25.

Rankin Society Has Annual Picnic at Irvin Park

The spreading live oaks at Irvin park made a lovely setting for the annual picnic of Rankin's Co-operative society, when members and their guests numbered 100, met Saturday evening for a delicious dinner and a few hours of varied entertainment. The long tables were bedecked with an endless variety of summer blooms, with gladioluses and dahlias predominating.

Leaving the store at 3:30 o'clock, the Rankin employees arrived at their destination sufficiently early to have several hours of daylight for their amusement program. An exciting baseball game ensued, with John Lutz and Charles Chamberlain as captains of the contesting teams. Bruce Switzer was in charge of the sports of the day.

Supervising the delectable menu, which proved more than satisfying, and also the table decorations, were Mrs. Edna Timm, Mrs. Will Wyckoff, Mrs. Bee Johnson, and Mrs. Rosa Meyers.

Providing special merriment as a feature of the entertainment following the dinner was the "Modern Fairy Tale" by Mrs. Marie Fowler, J. H. Rankin as a convincing fairy king; H. P. Rankin as the royal prince; Bruce Switzer as the chief butler; and Roy Wheeler as the green-eyed monster of the magic woods, were leading characters. Mrs. B. Barnard was the scullery maid, while Miss Mabel Cole, Mrs. W. Wyckoff, and Mrs. Bee Johnson were the chief cooks.

The fascinating strains of the mouth harp and the accordion, as played by A. M. Faccou and M. R. Sorenson, served to continue the atmosphere suggested by the "Modern Fairy Tale."

Mrs. Beatrice Barnard, president of the Rankin Co-operative society, had appointed Miss Mabel Cole as general chairman of the successful event. Others heading committees were Charles Chamberlain, transportation; Miss Marie Fowler, advertising; and Miss Ruth Sanford, with the Sunday dinner. Mrs. Dorothy Osborn, Roy Wheeler, and Curtis Pierson, entertainment.

Series of Functions Compliment Pretty Bride-elect

Those old-time friends and former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Brown, 825 East Chestnut avenue, who have watched Miss Isabel Brown grow from a lovable child into a charming young woman, were happy at the opportunity to join in a pleasant party planned by Mrs. O. V. Barton and show their interest in Miss Isabel's approaching marriage to John Garthe, by showing her with surprise gifts as one of the events of the past week.

Mrs. Barton staged her party in the Brown home and arranged with Mrs. Dwight Miller, one of the guests, to have the young honoree absent at the time of the arrival of the group of old-time friends. Mrs. Miller did this by asking her for luncheon and then visiting the Arnold Walker ranch where they found so much of interest that it was a simple matter to linger until assured that all the guests would be assembled.

Miss Brown's surprise was complete, and her pleasure in the afternoon and the friendly plans of Mrs. Barton, was unalloyed. Games and contests all stressed the bridal theme, and paved the way for a glorified treasure hunt, in which each gift as found by the honoree, gave her a rhymer clue to the hiding place of the next. In this happy fashion, she found countless pieces of the lovely woodland pattern in crystal to complete the set which Mrs. Barton had started for her at Christmas.

Refreshments served on daintily decorated trays, continued the charming pink and yellow motif of the floral appointments, with small cakes iced in the two tones, served with orangeade and ice cream also in pink and yellow. Wee brides preceded over rosebud nuptials.

Those asked to the happy reunion, included in addition to the hosts, Mrs. Barton, her honoree, Miss Isabel Brown, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Brown, Mesdames N. A. Walker, Viola A. Franklin, M. G. Lehner, M. A. Wing, James F. E. Richards, J. H. Rathbun Laura Wolfert, Albert Schreff, V. Ehrhardt, H. N. Alteman, L. M. Hill, Thomas Mann, D. A. Bear, Dwight Miller, C. S. Williams, Charles Carey, Norman Franklin, Hayford Helms of Los Angeles, E. P. Dyche, L. L. Hains, William Latham, B. F. Moore, Sargent, and the Misses Sophie Divver and Jeanne Peacock.

In addition to the party planned so delightfully by Mrs. Barton the past week was enlivened by other affairs for which Miss Brown's betrothal to Mr. Garthe, offered incentive.

One of the pleasantest of these, was a luncheon given by Mrs. Stephen Griset in her South Bristol street home, with the staff of Sunday school teachers in the First Presbyterian primary department as guests. Miss Brown has assisted in that department for some time, and the teachers were delighted to express their interest in her marriage plans.

Mrs. Griset was assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Griset, and by Mrs. J. N. Osborn, in welcoming the guests to a home that was colorful and fragrant with mid-summer blossoms. Combining blue and yellow in her table appointments, the hostess evolved a charming effect as a background for the delicious luncheon menu served.

Among the afternoon diversions was an amusing airplane contest in which Miss Brown was announced as winner, and therefore eligible to the "prize." The prize in question was a set of sterling silver cocktail forks in the pattern which she has chosen for her silver. These were the shower gifts of the assembled teachers who included in addition to Mrs. Griset, Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. Ben Patton, Mrs. E. F. Gaebe, Mrs. J. J. Hershiser, Mrs. Mary Galloway, Mrs. J. N. Osborn, Mrs. Mabel Blee and Mrs. Eugene Griset, enjoying the affair with the honor guest, Miss Brown, her mother, Mrs. R. J. Brown and Miss Mary Griset.

Additional Affairs
Mrs. Dwight Miller was luncheon hostess to Miss Brown and a group of her close friends recently, when the pretty bride-elect was showered with attractive articles for the kitchen of her future home. Another equally gracious courtesy of recent date, was that extended by the Misses Annie Philip and Alice Pooley, in their home in Glendale, when a miscellaneous shower was held in connection with a tea of pretty appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandermaast had as their dinner guests at the club, the two artists, Mr. Van Patton and Mr. Prindle. Mrs. Vandermaast's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Van Patten of Los Angeles, and Newell Vandermaast, son of the hosts.

Mrs. Hugo Lamb and daughters, the Misses Lois and Alice, of 530 South Sycamore street, are spending several days at San Juan Hot Springs.

Mrs. J. E. Crew and three children, Janet, Lela Claire, and Joanne, of Glendora, spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Herr, 606 North Ross street.

Miss Helen Battey, junior at the University of California at Los Angeles, has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Battey, 110 South Birch street, for the summer holidays.

Miss Louise Young, 428 West Washington street, accompanied by Miss Frances Battey, 110 South Birch street, left Friday for Detroit by way of the Canadian National railway. Here they will visit Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Robbins. Mrs. Robbins was formerly Miss Edith Plavan of Santa Ana. Here they will meet Miss Wilma Plavan, and father, F. D. Plavan, who are just returning from a world trip.

Mrs. Loren J. Mead, of 708 South Birch street, left Saturday for Detroit and New York City. In New York she will meet her husband, who has just returned from a world tour. In Detroit, she will visit her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gidcomb and daughter Maxine, 1102 West Pine street, spent yesterday in Whittier at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McGaffey and family. Mr. and Mrs. McGaffey and daughters, Katharine and Harriet Ann, formerly of Ventura, have just established their residence in Whittier.

M. L. Friend, of Friend and Martin, accompanied by his two sons, Robert and Charles, left today by automobile for Kansas, his former home state, where he will visit friends and relatives.

The Rev. Wesley G. Nicholson, accompanied by his wife and small son, of Cambridge, Mass., have arrived in Santa Ana for a vacation stay, during which time Mr. Nicholson will act as vacation pulpit supply in the First Congregational church, during the absence of the Rev. Perry F. Schrock. Mrs. Nicholson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Neudermeyer of San Clemente, where the Nicholsons will spend part of their vacation, but they plan to make the Congregational parsonage at 205 West Twentieth street, their headquarters.

Miss Elizabeth Hemstra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hemstra, 1730 Fruit street, will leave Pomona tonight by way of the Union Pacific, for Sheldon, Ia., where she will spend some time visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry F. Schrock today completed plans for their eastern trip on which they will leave tomorrow, going as far as the eastern coast. They will be accompanied by their two children, Fredrick and Mary, and intend to be gone about ten weeks.

Dr. J. I. Pullin, 1306 North Broadway, has returned from a 10-days' automobile trip to San Francisco and other northern points of interest, on which he was accompanied by Mrs. Florence McClay and two children, Jean and Jack McClay.

Mrs. Charles Atwood, (Evelyn Greider) has resumed her duties at Rankin's, after an enjoyable honey-

Miss Margaret Wylie To Be Wedded Soon In Seattle

Of marked interest to friends here in Santa Ana where Miss Margaret Wylie has been prominent in social and business life for several years, were the wedding plans of Miss Wylie and Ronald C. Scott, civil engineer of Tacoma, Wash.

Miss Wylie was the guest last week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wylie, 2526 Santiago street, completing her visit last night when she sailed on the S. S. Ruth Alexander, for Seattle. She will be met in that city by Mr. Scott, and their wedding will follow immediately.

They will continue to Tacoma where Mr. Scott has a pleasant home in readiness for his bride.

Connected with the local office of the Southern Counties' Gas company for approximately ten years, Miss Wylie was well known all over the county for her pleasing personality and her executive ability. That ability gave her an opening with the Standard Oil company, and for the past two years she has held a responsible position in the Los Angeles office, resigning it only to complete her plans for the approaching wedding.

Dancing at Rendezvous Succeeds Evening Of Bunko

In entertaining a little group of congenial friends at one of the pleasant parties of the end of the week, Miss Irene Boyer greeted her guests in the home of her mother, Mrs. W. J. Morris, 2011 North Ross street, where a lively session of bunko provided entertainment.

As a sequel to the playing, the young people were invited to the dining-room where ice cream in individual automobile moulds, was served with angel food and devilled's food cake. Pastel tinted flowers, soft candle light, and gay little delft favors harmonized with the fluted nut cups in providing unusually dainty appointments for the table.

Dancing at the Rendezvous, Balboa Beach, where they were chaperoned by Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Helen Wiebe, added the final touch of hospitality to the evening for Miss Boyer and her guests, Miss Catherine Bement, Miss Pauline Wells, Miss Helen Wiebe and Messrs. Walter Carothers, Harley Vahl, Kermit Maynard and Kenneth Maynard.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Miss Neva Mizar, who has been in Redlands for the past year, has returned to her duties as cosmetician at Rankin's.

Miss Margaret Bowen has just returned from a vacation journey to Yosemite National park.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Griset of South Bristol street, returned last night from an enjoyable Friday to Sunday stay at Catalina Island.

Wedding Rites Promise Unusual Beauty for Late Afternoon

Decorative plans for the wedding this afternoon at 4 o'clock of Miss Margaret Wood to Dr. J. B. Price, promised to achieve an unusual beauty in the home of bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Wood, 322 North Sycamore street. In carrying out Miss Wood's own ideas for the event, a bank of greenery was placed between two large windows in the living room as a background for tall floor vases of gladioluses in delicate hues.

For her nuptials, the bride was to be costumed in the exquisite creation of white satin and silver lace, worn two years ago by Miss Anita Richards when she wedded J. W. Henry. Added sentiment was to be expressed by the filmy veil, which has already adorned nine happy brides, with Miss Wood to make the tenth to be so honored. Ashower bouquet of snowy roses was to be carried by Miss Wood to complete the charming picture.

Equally interesting plans for the music included violin solos to be played by Miss Emmalene Richards, with Miss Laura Joiner at the piano. The Pascha Heifetz arrangement of "Estrellita," and "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, were to be followed by the ever-impressive strains of Lohengrin, played by Miss Joiner. The Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, was to officiate.

Wedding reception plans included the serving of ices molded in slipper form, with a towering three-tiered bride's cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom.

Early this evening Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Price were to leave for a honeymoon trip, their destination, however, has not been disclosed.

It is expected they will return late this month, as Dr. Price will begin on July 1 to serve his internship at the Orange County hospital. They will be at home to their many friends at 1736 South Maple street.

The former Miss Wood is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school, and also holds a diploma from the Clara Barton Training School for Nurses. For some time she has been employed at the Santa Ana Valley hospital, and expects to continue in her position when she returns to this city. Dr. Price has just received his M. D. degree as a member of the class graduating last night from the School of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda.

Guests at the wedding were to be Mrs. T. M. Price, and the Misses Edna and Guinevere Price, Wichita, Kans., mother and sisters of the bridegroom; Messrs. and Mesdames B. P. Maynard, V. A. Heckart, C. A. Greenleaf, Frank Greenleaf; and Mesdames J. F. S. Wood, C. E. Wagner, J. W. Henry, Alice Kennedy; Charles Greenleaf; the Misses Emmaline Richards and Laura Joiner, and Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cameron, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schulte, and Miss Laura Schule, and Mrs. Margaret Thomas, of Fullerton; Miss Ella Jo Covington, of Glendale; Mrs. W. R. Pitman, of Hollywood, and Drs. and Mesdames Donald Marchus, Harold Lashier, Roy Gibson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boberson, of Los Angeles.

Miss Fordena Peters Wedded in Yuma to George Burroughs

Details of the romantic marriage late last week in Yuma, Ariz., of Miss Fordena Peters of this city, and George Burroughs of Los Angeles, formerly of Santa Ana, were today eagerly awaited by friends of the young people, who were expecting their early return to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Peters, 1449 Orange avenue.

Popular in a wide circle of friends, Miss Peters was one of the leaders in her high school class. Following graduation, she took a business course and was employed for some time in the office of Hockaday, Harlow and Phillips.

While future plans of the young people were not made known to their friends here, it is believed that they will make their home in Los Angeles, where Mr. Burroughs is employed.

BANKER RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE

John M. Hartke, of the Santa Ana branch of the Bank of Italy, returned today from a visit of one week at the head office of his organization in San Francisco. While there he attended a conference of Bank of Italy executives on methods of administering trusts.

"The Bank of Italy is unique in its plan of administering trusts wherever they may originate among the 165 cities in California where branches are maintained," said Hartke. "The assets of trusts are kept in the home town. The process of administration of decedents' estates and of private trusts is managed by the local bank staff under the supervision of district trust officers."

"The number of trusts at local branches has increased rapidly during the past year. Through occasional meetings of the staff held at the head office, such as this one, those who are administering trusts are kept in touch with developments of a professional nature. Thus the Bank of Italy is enabled to provide a statewide trust service of uniform character and to maintain a high standard of technical performance."

BOARD TO PICK NEW SITE FOR LOCAL SCHOOL

That the board of education will discuss and probably select a new site for the Jefferson school at the special meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock, was practically assured by all indications today. The meeting will be held at the board of education offices at Church and Sycamore streets.

The recent decision of U. S. Webb, attorney general of California, in giving the city council jurisdiction over school site selections, has made it necessary for the board of education to find a new site for the Jefferson school. The city council objected to the proposed location at Flower and Santa Clara streets on the ground that it would seriously effect property values in a section that promises to become one of the high class residential districts of the city.

The objection from the school board to a site west of Flower street is that a dangerous hazard would be created by having children cross a busy street to go to school. The members of the board have not indicated any possible locations for the school.

The special session will be held to accommodate J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools, who will leave tomorrow for the convention of the National Education association at Columbus, O. The regular meeting was to have been held Tuesday night.

Important matters which probably will come before the board for discussion and approval will be plans for the new Frances Willard junior high school at Ross and Washington streets and alterations and additions to be made at the Julia Lathrop school. Cranston also will make his recommendations for vacancies to the teaching staffs of the city.

Novel Way to Get Rid of Flies

Flies must have the patience usually credited to Job, because screen doors are no bar to their entrance into your home. All they ask is the chance to slip in when the door swings open. Then, you spend time hunting them down, swatting, missing them, finally giving up the job in disgust.

I am going to tell you a simple way to rid your house of flies, mosquitoes and moths.

Use either orange or lemon rinds. Cut the rind into strips, drop onto a sizzling hot frying pan and let the rind scorch until the odor fills the room. Of course you must have an outside door and a window or two open to let the flies escape, and escape they will for this is one odor which smells other than a rose to pestiferous flies.

The pungent lemon odor is not disagreeable and the method is so simple and so effective you will bless the day I published the idea. Cut it out and save it, in case you forget.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Fresh Fruit Punch
1 cup raspberry juice
1 cup grated pineapple
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup orange juice
Juice of 2 grapefruit
2 cups strong tea
Ice
Charged water

Before I make the punch let me ask if you have a siphon bottle filled with charged water? I know of no greater convenience than this bottle. Lemonade or orangeade can be made in a jiffy and taste twice as good if charged water is used. For difficult children the bit of charged water sizzled into their egg and milk drinks induces the drinking thereof without walls of woe. These bottles can be obtained from your druggist for a dollar and the bottle refilled for 25 cents.

Fresh pineapple should be used in this punch. It is not easily obtained, so we will content ourselves with the canned variety—a small can is the exact amount required for the punch. Put the pineapple to heat with the sugar. When dissolved and cool, add the other juices and strain over a quantity of ice. This must be done just long enough to chill the juices without melting the ice, thus diluting the mixture too much. Before serving add the freshly made tea to the juices and enough charged water to give it zest.

A better way to use the charged water is to partially fill the glass with punch, a cube of ice, then fill the glass with charged water, stir up and serve.

About 2 1/2 quarts of punch can be made from the recipe. This gives each full cupful a calorie value of approximately 100, most of which is derived from the sugar. A glassful of punch and charged water would be rated at 75 calories.

ENTERTAINING AT TEA is the subject of the leaflet this week. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a free copy of the leaflet this week and save it for the time when you will be entertaining. All sorts of ideas will be found in the leaflet, as well as suggestions for what to serve and how.

Buena Park

Officers Installed
One of the most successful years in the history of the Buena Park Woman's club, which was organized in 1889, was brought to a close Thursday, with a very enjoyable program meeting.

A delicious pot-luck luncheon was served in the clubhouse by the hostess committee, Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Mrs. William Loughboro, Mrs. Mary Boden and Mrs. J. H. Page, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Warren, Centerpieces on the table where the 35 guests were served were bowls of garden flowers in pastel shades.

Seated at the head table were the president, Mrs. H. E. Warren; incoming president, Mrs. Parrie Salter; vice president, Mrs. Cary B. Snyder; recording secretary, Mrs. E. W. Thurman; state chairman of highways and waterways, Mrs. Albert Launer, of Fullerton, and Mrs. Harold Covey. The trustees, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey, Mrs. L. A.

Fry, Mrs. George Trapp and Mrs. J. F. Greenwalt, were hostesses at the other tables.

The recording secretary, Mrs. W. E. Gunby, reported that the chief objective of the club this year has been the underprivileged girl, and for the past several months a local girl has been maintained at the Orange county reformatory by monthly allowances of $10 to that institution.

County and district officers and chairmen of various sections who have been honored guests and had charge of programs during the year were Mrs. H. M. Sammis, state chairman of music; Mrs. Parrie Salter, county chairman of birds, flowers and wild life; Mrs. T. D. Robertson, county chairman of gardening; Mrs. J. S. Thurston, county president, and Mrs. Marcus Robbins, district president.

The financial report showed $661.07 cleared from serving Klwanis dinners, and $101.84 from the Dahlia show, and a balance on hand of $1455.69. The clubhouse and lot are free from incumbrance, and the plans are to start a building program for a new clubhouse as soon as financial conditions improve. Meanwhile the grounds surrounding the present clubhouse are to be beautified by the planting of shrubs and flowers.

The annual Orange County Dahlia show, which has been sponsored by the club for the past seven years, will not be held this year.

Mrs. Warren turned over the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Parrie Salter, presenting her with a president's pin on behalf of the club, with a short presentation speech. Mrs. Snyder made the presentation of a basket of beautiful assorted flowers to Mrs. Salter from the officers. The flowers were given by Mr. and Mrs. George Trapp.

Other new officers who were installed by Mrs. Salter were Mrs. Cary B. Snyder, vice president; Mrs. William Loughboro, second vice president; Mrs. Warren, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. F. Greenwalt, recording secretary; Mrs. C. W. Wahl, treasurer.

Mrs. Salter announced the following committee appointments: Program, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey, Mrs. L. A. Fry and Mrs. George Cole to work out an educational theme in connection with the music section composed of Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. E. N. Cummings, Mrs. Garrison Costar and Mrs. William Loughboro; house committee, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. J. F. Simpson; sick and charity, Mrs. H. S. Horn, Mrs. Mary Boden and Mrs. George Trapp; membership, Mrs. W. E. Gunby, Mrs. A. Riddle, Mrs. E. W. Thurman, Mrs. David Lemke, and Mrs. J. B. Robinson; publicity, Mrs. Florence Jones; building, Mrs. H. E. Warren, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey, Mrs. W. E. Gunby, Mrs. George Trapp, Mrs. L. A. Fry, Mrs. Pauline Cole and Mrs. Salter; parliamentary, Mrs. O. E. Pike.

Mrs. Wilsey, on behalf of the club, presented Mrs. Warren with a gold chain and gavel which was attached to the pin presented to her last year. Mrs. Warren also received a basket of gladioluses, delphinium and fern from the officers, with Mrs. Gunby making the presentation.

Visitors present were Mrs. Harold Coye and Mrs. Lloyd Cookson.

O'BRIEN HERE IN 'ROUGH ROMANCE'

A tale of love and adventure in the frozen north country is contained in George O'Brien's latest all-talking production, "Rough Romance," which comes to the Fox West Coast theater today for three days.

Helen Chandler, dainty little blond actress, has the leading feminine role in the show, that of the daughter of a store keeper, far up in the snow country.

Rough fights, brave deeds, daring schemes and murder figure in the plot of the picture, making it far different from the usual film seen in Santa Ana during the past several months where jazz bands and chorus girls make up the entertainment in alleged night clubs.

"Rough Romance" is the story of a young timber worker, who while sawing down a tree, while he himself is high up in it, hears a shot and sees a terrible murder. This is the beginning of the story. How he tracks the murderer, later battling him in order to save the girl he loves, makes up the highlight of the story.

A picture of unusual interest, not only for the plot, the locale and the action that are seen, "Rough Romance" will prove interesting because of good direction, startling surprises and unusual fighting scenes it contains.

A Fox Movietone news reel and an all-talking comedy also are shown.

well, first; Mrs. E. S. Jones and C. W. Wahl, second, and Mrs. Jack Cromwell and J. R. Thompson, consolation.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served by the hostess committee, Mrs. Kate Thompson, Mrs. Callie Basel, Mrs. Winnie Sopha and Mrs. Nila West.

'IN GAY MADRID' NOW AT BROADWAY

Featuring a number of gay songs, Ramon Novarro's latest all-talking and singing picture, "In Gay Madrid," opens a four day engagement at the Fox Broadway theater today, taking the place of "Shadow of the Law," which has been playing there for the past three days.

Dorothy Jordan, who played the lead in "Devil May Care," Novarro's first picture of this type, has the feminine lead in "In Gay Madrid," which is his second singing picture.

There are six songs featured, five of which are sung by Novarro. The color and the romantic flavor usually found in a Novarro picture are seen in "In Gay Madrid" from start to finish. Laid in a picturesque setting with gay Spanish costumes, the story tells of Ricardo, son of a marquis, who because of his wild escapades in Madrid with a dancer, is sent to a small university at Santiago, where he falls in love with Carmina. They are about to announce their engagement when the jealous dancer arrives and makes trouble, hiding herself in Ricardo's bed, where she is found. A duel follows and then a happy ending for all concerned.

Some of the songs heard in the show are: "Dark Night," "Let Me Give You Love," "Into My Heart," "Santiago" and "Smile Comrades."

A Fox Movietone news reel and an all-talking comedy also are shown.

'INGAGI' THRILLS WALKER AUDIENCE

"Ingagi" seems to be the last word in motion pictures dealing with wild-game hunting in Africa. "Ingagi," which is native for gorilla, has a thrill for every few feet of its eight reels and the smashing culmination almost defies description.

Audiences at Walker's State theater last night testified to their approval by applause. The film has no story. It is merely a running record of the exploits of Sir Hubert Winstead, F.A.S., of London, and Capt. Daniel Swayne, of New York.

With their safari they penetrated to the district above Lake Kivu, and there they came upon the objects of their search—gorillas.

But they went further and found what may be the fabled "missing link"—creatures half-human, half-ape, apparently—a strange ape-like child, women half wild—things that are read of in travelers' tales.

THE TINYMITES

They watched the watermelon boat and Scouty said, "There tempt my throat. I wish we had a big one that we all could eat right here. With my fine Scout knife I could cut it into dandy pieces, but we'll have no chance to try it out, or eat a bit, I fear."

The Travel Man just smiled. And then he pleased all of the Tins when he said, "Well, boys, I think that I can fix you up just right. For almost nothing I can buy a melon that will make you sigh. Come on right down and help me. Pick the biggest one in sight."

So to the boat they promptly ran. The boatman said, "You bet you can pick any melon that you want. I'm here to sell them all." "Ah, here's a big one," Clowny cried. And then he hugged it to his side. "Hang on real tight," cried someone else. "Don't let that melon fall!"

Right down the dock, not far away, wee Coppy said, "Here's where we'll stay until we eat the melon. We will not be bothered here." So everything turned out real nice. Each Tiny had a great big slice. The Travel Man, too, took his share and smiled from ear to ear.

When they were through the Travel Man said, "Well, boys, now I guess we can go right down to a real queer shop that you will like to see. I've visited this place before and there is quite a treat in store. A man there makes fine pottery and is clever as can be."

And so they went there very quick. Said Scouty, "Say! This place is slick." Great urns made out of pottery were standing here and there. The pottery man was hard at work. He said, "Hello," but didn't shirk his daily toll. The Tins found his handiwork was rare.

(The Tinymites have a ride in a queer buggy in the next story.) (Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

Missing Letter Links

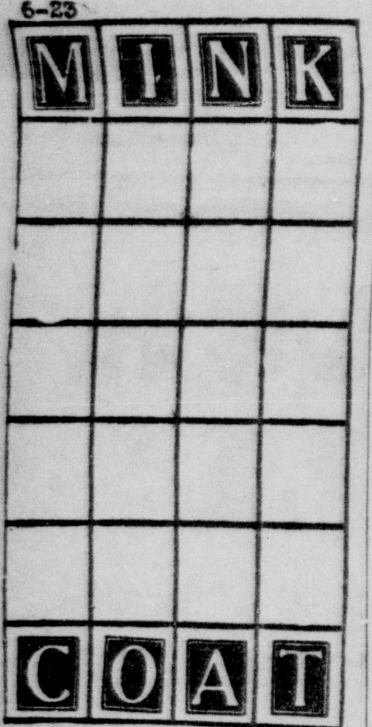

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

Newport Beach Arranges July 4th Celebration

BRAD CONCERT SLATED FOR 3 DAY PROGRAM

NEWPORT BEACH, June 23.—Events to take place Friday, July 4, and the Saturday and Sunday following were announced today by Harry H. Williamson, chairman of the Fourth of July committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

These events will also be regarded as a celebration of the dredging and groin work at the entrance to Newport harbor. The dredging was recently completed and the two groins are expected to be finished by Independence day. Fireworks displays will be staged July 4 simultaneously at the Newport and Balboa piers. They will begin about 8 p. m. There is a city ordinance against the sale or handling or shooting off of fireworks, but an exception is made for a public display of this kind. The chamber of commerce has arranged for two exhibitions, which will be for the outer end of the two piers, thus minimizing dangers. The ordinance prohibiting other shooting of fireworks was passed since last July 4.

Speed trials will be held by some of the fastest outboard motorboats in the southwest in the county channel of Newport bay July 5. Last year world records were set on the course, which has been surveyed and is electrically timed by the chamber of commerce.

Boatmen state that still faster records may be made here the day after July 4, when many boat racing enthusiasts from all over the Southland, and not a few visitors from outside the state, are expected.

The South Gate Municipal boys' band, of South Gate, will give two outdoor concerts here on the afternoon of Sunday, July 6, to close the three-day program. There are 46 pieces in the band. One concert will be given early in the afternoon at Balboa and the other will follow later in Newport.

On the Saturday following this three-day celebration will be staged the 12th annual Tournament of Lights, July 12.

Reduced Citrus Shipments Urged; 260 Cars Packed

FULLERTON, June 23.—In an effort to curtail shipments to the extent that the crop will last throughout the season and also to retain high prices, the packing houses of the Fullerton district sent out but 260 cars of oranges and lemons.

The Northern Orange County Citrus exchange shipped 129 cars of valencias and 31 cars of lemons, according to exchange officials. The Edgington house shipped 11 cars, while the remainder of the total came from Fred W. Klinehouse, Bastanchury Ranch Company, C. C. Chapman house and Sam Merchant house. Shipments from other points were 47 cars from Placentia, 16 from Yorba Linda and 24 from La Habra.

"Shipments should be cut to 100 cars a day from California if the fruit is to be made to last throughout the regular season," Tom Edgington house, said. "Picking is showing the actual production lighter than estimates. A general reduction in shipments to make the fruit last the full season would have a tendency to maintain a better price level."

Beach Lighting System Finished

NEWPORT BEACH, June 23.—Summer officially arrived Saturday, which was June 21 and the longest day of the year; that is, the sun was out longer. It was a coincidence that the sun shone that day after several days of rather cloudy weather on the Orange county coast.

The sunshine Saturday and yesterday brought out the largest crowd of beach and bay visitors to Newport, Balboa, and Corona del Mar for some time.

Another kind of light also shone for the first time during the week end, as two new lighting systems were turned on for the first time Saturday night. One included the new 400-candle-power lantern-type lights on the poles recently erected for the P. E. improvement on Central avenue between Alvarado and B streets, and the other covered the Ocean and Bay fronts, Bay avenue and the side streets between A and Palm, inclusive.

That part of the city now has street lights which compare with the finest sections of large cities.

MISS BASTADY. L. NEAL MARRY IN BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, June 23.—The Buena Park Congregational church was the setting of one of the largest weddings of the season Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Lillian Bastady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bastady, and Lloyd Neal, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Burton Y. Neal, were married by the bridegroom's father.

Baskets of pink gladioluses and greenery transformed the altar of the church into a veritable flower garden and provided a pretty background for the arch of ferns and red roses with a white bell canopy, under which the bridal party assembled.

As a prelude to the service, Mrs. Claude Smith at the organ console played "Love's Greeting" and "In a Monastery Garden."

The bride wore a gown of pink tulle, with a long veil of white tulle, worn cap effect with a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and a shower of lilies of the valley. She entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

Little Eleanor Varkount in a cunning frock of white lace over pink silk, and carrying a basket filled with pink and white rose petals, was flower girl, and Wilma Smith in a white silk dress was a fairy like train bearer.

Following the services, the 500 guests were invited to the social hall where a reception was held, followed by the serving of the bride's cake, ice cream and home made cakes. Mrs. Bastady's Sunday school class assisted in the serving and the members of the Ladies' aid society were on the hostess committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal left for a honeymoon, without announcing the destination or date of return. They have purchased a new home at the corner of West Tenth street and Kingman avenue in Buena Park.

The bride is a native of Buena Park and is a graduate of the Fullerton union high school, and the Woodbury college in Los Angeles.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Williamson, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Esta Higby, Mrs. A. E. Haskell, Mrs. Maude Humstock, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Matheny and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Matheny, of Los Angeles; Mr.

1000 PERSONS AT SERVICE IN CHURCH SUNDAY

FULLERTON, June 23.—Nearly 1000 persons attended the services at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday at which a special program was given in observance of the ending of the second year of the pastor, Dr. B. Dudley Snudden, in Fullerton. The change in the date of the annual conference from September to June makes this a nine-month year.

At the morning hour the pastor spoke on "The Golden Ambition." There will be addresses and a musical program at the evening hour. At 9:30 a. m. Dr. John Marshall, professor of philosophy at Albion college, Michigan, spoke before the Men's Bible class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall, 222 East Wilshire avenue.

The addresses in the evening were "Speculating in Futures," by Don Haskett; "This Year and Next," by Paul McGuire; "Young People's Affairs," by Miss Frances Stevens, and "Living Our Own Lives," by Dr. Snudden.

Fort Searchlights At Tournament Of Lights On July 12

NEWPORT BEACH, June 23.—Big searchlights of the 63rd regiment of coast artillery, Fort MacArthur, will take part in the twelfth annual Tournament of Lights here Saturday evening, July 12. It was announced today by H. L. Sherman, general chairman of the tournament.

This is one of the new features expected for this year's tournament. Sherman expects to be able to announce others in the near future. A letter from the coast artillery officials states that there is a remote possibility that the big lights may be used at that time in the Citizens' military training camp, otherwise they will be sent here.

Many new entries are expected. It was said by W. L. Jordan, chairman of the entries committee, inquiries are coming in daily and if this is any criterion, the "big parade" this year should surpass all former ones.

Glider Built By Fullerton School Students Tested

FULLERTON, June 23.—Official government inspection of a glider recently built in the manual training department of the Fullerton union high school under the direction of R. A. Marsden, instructor, was given today and pronounced ready for a test flight by Inspector Doaks of the department of commerce.

Doaks gave a pilot's examination to Carl Abiliter, Anaheim student pilot.

Doaks commented favorably on the local airport after which he was taken to the high school to inspect the glider by Claude Long, operator of the Fullerton airport.

The election of officers was held at the annual meeting last week at the high school auditorium. The tables were decorated with baskets of sweet peas and candles in pastel shades tied with harmonizing tulle. The tables were marked off in years so classmates could sit together. Approximately 150 members were present. Mrs. Laura Lazeres had charge of the decorations.

James Tuffree, president, was toastmaster, and Albert Launer greeted the class of 1930, the guests. William McVeigh, president of the class, responded.

James Tuffree arranged the program, which included a song by Miss Lucille Bush and an accordion solo by Ted Wickersheim.

Later a dance was held in the gym. Fun stunts were held throughout the evening to amuse the guests.

500 Attracted To Play Presented In Fullerton Church

FULLERTON, June 23.—Approximately 500 persons witnessed "The Feast of Belshazzar," given by the Wright Christian church last evening at 7:30 o'clock.

This season is the fifth that they have played in Fullerton, it was announced by the Rev. George P. Tinsley, pastor of the church. They have presented "The Star of Bethlehem," "Peter, the Rock," "In the Shadow of the Cross," and "The Tent Dwellers" on previous occasions.

A silver offering taken at the services was added to the fund to pay the expenses of the young people of the church to the idyllic young people's conference.

EVENING SALUTATION

"He who is taught to live upon little owes more to his father's wisdom than he who has a great deal left him does to his father's care."—William Penn.

THE TARIFF BILL

The tariff bill has been signed, and there are those who believe that there is some connection between the slump in stocks and the tariff bill. There may be, but we do not believe there is much. It is more probable that inside facts concerning earnings have leaked out, that the six months reports of the various companies have been discounted; that losses have been taken now rather than a few weeks later, and just as in many other things, the excitement is greater when the facts are not generally known.

The racing into the New York harbor of ships laden with higher tariff articles, in order to get in before the bill went into effect, is an illustration of what the tariff means to the workers abroad, and to some of the manufacturers here.

California has been well taken care of in this tariff bill. Our representatives in congress and our United States senators have been able to look after California's interests, and yet we are unable to commend the bill as a whole. If we thought of it simply from our own point of view and the point of view of our own state, it would only have words of commendation, but we must take a wider view. We cannot help feeling that the burdens in some directions are going to be heavier, and heavier in the very points where they ought to be made lighter.

Yet we are not among those who would condemn the President. We are confident that this bill isn't in line with his ideas, but with the conflicting ideas in Congress from all over this country, each group fighting for the tariff on the particular products of its own community, the outcome is pretty likely to be under any circumstances a miserable compromise due to political "log-rolling" which increases the rates, with the unrepresented or poorly represented group among the lobbyists suffering.

It is easy enough to condemn, but when confronted with a situation as President Hoover is, a responsibility is upon him which forces him to act in spite of criticism. He probably could as heartily condemn the measure as could anyone else in some respects, but after watching the forces at work during the months, his disappointment on some provisions of it is only equalled by his amazement that anything was agreed upon at all.

PUBLIC EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS MOST POPULAR

Enrollment in publicly supported colleges, universities and professional schools in the United States increased 77.4 per cent between 1920 and 1928, compared with an increase of 75.5 per cent in privately controlled institutions of this character, according to figures made public by David T. Blose, statistician at the federal office of education.

Numerically the total enrollment in privately supported institutions of higher learning continues far in excess of that in the publicly supported ones. The fact that the latter exceeded the former by 1.9 per cent in its own individual increase during an eight-year period is significant, according to Mr. Blose.

In 1928 the period for which latest statistics are available, 347,537 students were enrolled in publicly supported institutions of higher learning compared with 571,844 in similar privately supported institutions. In 1920 the enrollment in these public institutions was 195,876 compared with 325,878 in the private ones.

At the present time there are twenty-two states in which enrollment in the public universities, colleges, and professional schools exceed that of the privately controlled ones. These states are Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

It will be noted that the western states predominate in the list. This is in sharp contrast to the concentration of students in the eastern institutions that are privately controlled.

Mr. Blose offers a partial explanation when he attributes the condition to the fact that as the people migrated westward, education became more and more a public function before private organizations could be maintained adequately.

Having presented some statistics it can safely be left to the graduates of the two classes of institutions to determine upon the superior merits of the one or the other, for it is a matter which will never be settled between them.

THE MOST FAMOUS BABY

The most famous baby in the world has arrived. Alice Roosevelt Longworth's baby and little Michael of Roumania are outclassed for their former places in the newspaper pictures. We are all happy to congratulate Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh. Their reticence about the announcement is really preferable to the action of a young father we knew. His heir was born around three o'clock in the morning. Immediately upon arrival he telephoned all his friends. Those he didn't telephone he waylaid on the way to work in the morning.

The news dispatches do not state whether the Lindbergh son has wings. Doubtless, judging from inkblots from the scientists, it would be too much to expect in one generation.

It is a safe prophecy that flying will be about as natural to that child as walking or swimming.

DADDY GOES HUNTING

Commander George M. Dyott returned to New York the other day from a little rest excursion into the jungles of India, following his trip into the wilderness of Brazil in search of Colonel P. H. Fawcett, the English explorer who, he found, had been murdered.

Commander Dyott was accompanied by photographers and a microphone man, James McInnis and W. K. Hawk. They took the first sound pictures of tigers. The pictures are said to be close-ups of the tigers killing and eating their prey. Commander Dyott brought a menagerie of baby animals as a present to his five-months-old son.

Maybe someone will paraphrase that "bye baby hunting, daddy's gone a hunting" nursery song to fit the occasion of Commander Dyott making a collection of baby thistles and baby thats, including a baby elephant for his son.

The baby elephant weighs seven hundred pounds. "He had to be washed every day like any other baby," said Commander Dyott, "to keep him cool. On the voyage he ate eight one-hundred pound bales of oats and oat straw, five buckets of rice and beans, twenty-five banana trees, forty tins of condensed milk at the rate of a bucket a day, fifty sugar cane stalks and all the bread and buns the sailors would put under his nose."

COLLEGE ATHLETICS AGAIN

Not long ago, Dr. Frank P. Day of Union College proposed a league among small colleges of upper New York state, in which the professional coaches, gate receipts, subsidized athletes and other symptoms of the sports racket would not exist. John R. Tunis, sports writer on the New York Evening Post, tells us in the New Republic that the day following his speech, the sports department of a New York newspaper sent out twenty telegrams to the presidents of the leading colleges in the East, among them Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Williams, Amherst and others, outlining Dr. Day's proposal and asking whether they approved of the radical suggestion of making amateur sports amateur. Only one man of the twenty answered affirmatively. Dr. John Grier Hibben of Princeton said, "I should prefer not to make any comment on President Day's suggestions."

This writer also calls attention to the fact that though it has been six months since the famous bulletin 23 of the Carnegie Foundation appeared there has been no noticeable reform. Columbia University, he points out, took a step in exactly the opposite direction by "reaching a new high for all time in the salary of $18,500 paid to its coach."

Even a Half-Wit Ought to Be Able to Learn Simple Rules

The study of traffic accidents made by the national conference on street and highway safety shows that safety depends upon a very few simple rules. Passing street cars contrary to regulations, passing on curves and hills, improper turning and double parking resulted in injury or death to 10,808 persons, not always the ones who were responsible for the accidents.

In another group of 100,000 accidents the conference found the following classification:

Did not have right of way..... 34,197
Exceeding speed limit..... 17,564
Wrong side of road..... 16,842
Drove off roadway..... 11,316
Failing to signal..... 9,159
Cutting in..... 7,349

This leaves only 4573 cases not classified in this group. Probably the failure to classify was due to lack of specific details. Yet if all of this number were accepted as "unavoidable"—faulty mechanism or other emergencies—95 per cent of the total were the result of ignoring half a dozen elementary rules. This is really less than half a dozen, because "exceeding speed limit" is a classification that must involve some of the other factors, since the danger is not inherent in speed itself but in the surrounding conditions.

In all of the foregoing cases motorists were indefensibly at fault. And they were at fault also in 4244 cases where pedestrians were injured or killed while crossing in obedience to lights or signals. But there were 27,392 killed or injured crossing between intersections, 27,177 where there were no signals, 9022 crossing against the signal and 1482 diagonally across the intersection. In this group of accidents 1438 persons were killed.

Official traffic codes have a way of developing into rather bulky volumes of verbiage, but the fundamental rules of the road remain pretty well fixed. There can be nothing approaching safety on the streets and highways until steps are taken to deny the privilege of driving to applicants until they know these simple regulations and put them off the roads if they neglect to comply with them. This policy and a persistent effort to keep pedestrians reminded of the necessity for obedience to traffic signals and caution where there are no signals seems to be the only hope of reducing the accident toll.

Keep Up Zeal to Learn In Adult Years

A Californian, and a splendid educator—William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education—has sounded the tocsin of war against mental inertia among adults. He appeals urgently to grown-ups to continue in the fervor of the "learner's attitude." Rich rewards are for those who drink deep of the "Pierian spring." Education, is its own reward, Mr. Cooper reminds the American people. To be studious is an admirable method for using part of the leisure which individuals enjoy and, as Mr. Cooper observes, "it furnishes opportunity to make life worthwhile, as it can be enticed in no other way except through personal contact with great teachers in advanced study."

Refuting the homely and misleading adage, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks," Mr. Cooper quotes Dr. Edward L. Thorndike, of Columbia University, to the effect that the ages from twenty-five to forty-five are superior to childhood and equal to or superior to early adolescence in general ability to learn.

Keeping the mind alert and abreast the times keeps one from becoming old in mind and spirit. The best preserver of youth is to keep up to date and to live in the present and in the future, as children do. The person who achieves this power to throw off the shackles of the past and to adjust himself or herself to the changed and changing conditions, living not only in the full knowledge of the times, but in the spirit of the times, has found the fabled Fountain of Youth.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

NOT A SQUARE DEAL

Though Nature scatters flowers
The field and woodland through,
About their roots she showers
A rain of weed-seeds, too.
The flowers we must nourish;
It costs both toll and pelf
To make them wax and flourish—
She tends the weeds herself.

Home owners who are lazy,
Although they plough and sow,
Can never cull a daisy,
Nor make a rose to grow,
Except by bending double
Through many a weary day,
And taking endless trouble
To keep the weeds away.

But Nature is untiring
And knows what she's about;
She keeps the weeds aspiring
To crowd the flowers out.
And, save for our hard labors
With spades and rakes and hoes,
We could not show the neighbors
A single pink or rose.

I think the legislature
A statute should prepare,
To make this recent Nature
Do what is right and fair.
She has both sun and showers
And quantities of seeds;
Why can't she till the flowers,
And let us till the weeds?

Our Common Enterprise

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

A number of industrial companies have set up relations between employer and employee which give promise of an end of the old conflict between labor and capital. A case in point is the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

From many such experiments, it is now clear that, instead of the future promising no more than a drawn battle, there is ground for hope of a common effort in industry, based on the true principle of a common enterprise. This is the development to which all men should give their support. It rests upon this great cornerstone: fair wages, hours, and working conditions are questions of fact, to be decided as such.

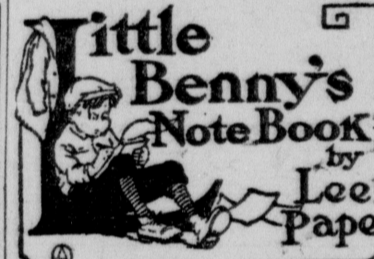

This principle demands that the employer shall not, at any time, force upon the employee wages, hours, and working conditions, merely because he has, as the time, the economic power to do so. Otherwise, it becomes necessary for the employee to force upon the employer the wages, hours, and working conditions which he has, at some other time, the economic power to bring about.

In our day, most workmen MUST be employed in order to live. If a man is experienced and trained, he is often dependent upon a particular industry, possibly a particular plant. This is especially true if he owns his home, or is otherwise established in a community.

At times, there are many seekers for every job. At such times, the employer has a great economic advantage in fixing wages and working conditions. The employer should not take advantage of such an opportunity. At any time, for any company, there is a fair wage that can be paid, if ANY wage can be paid. The conditions in the company, in the industry, and general business conditions, determine this wage. Sometimes it is higher, sometimes lower; but whatever it is, it is not to be determined by the amount at which men would rather work than not to work at all.

Labor and capital are in the right frame of mind to deal with such questions when they look upon their efforts as a common enterprise.

This morning we was eating breakfast and pop sed, I heerby put in a bid for liver and onions for supper tonite. I've had a strange yearning for several days now. I thaw it mite be a springtime hangover but now I realize it's a yearning for liver and onions, he sed.

Now Wilyum I hope and prey and onions I wrote down the date so in case you had another argument about it the date would be all wrote down. I wrote it down rite here on the wallpaper in back of the mantelpiece, I sed.

What? Where? O my goodness well of all things, ma sed, and I went and looked, saying, Here it is,
June the 9th.

Why that's 2 whole weeks ago, that settles it, liver and onions tonite, 3 cheers, pop sed, and ma sed, The idea of writing on the wallpaper,
I can't get over that, that's what I call the topmost summit of disobedients.

Now mother, dont befof the issue, pop sed. The main point is, its been 2 long dreery weeks since I had liver and onions, making it absolutely imperative for me to have it this evening, and a few lite pencil marks on an obscure part of the wall is a small price to pay for such glorious liberty. In fact in all the history of insurrections I I dont bieve there was ever such a blood-

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ARCHITECTURE GOES MODERN

Modernism in architecture is not the lunatic venture some seem to think it.

A while ago I stood with a friend before an ultra-modern office building in New York.

It was modern to a marked degree in its prodigal use of glass.

It was innocent of buttresses that might have made it a Chartres of commerce.

There were no massive columns to remind us of Grecian glory.

There were no narrow windows to mask its internal rush with the delusion of monastic calm.

It boasted no Gothic spires to sugger eyes lifted heavenward when they were really turned earthward in quest of profits.

It displayed no arches to suggest plutocracy at prayer.

I loved it.

My friend loathed it.

"Why," he asked, "must we forever fall so far below the architectural genius of the mediaeval makers of cathedrals and regal palaces? I suppose it is because we think only of utility while they thought of beauty?"

My friend is, I think, an admirable illustration of a peculiar blindness that marks our generation.
He is smitten with a nostalgia for departed glories and is wholly insensitive to the drawing beauty of our own time.

The makers of the great cathedrals were not exalted dreamers who scorned utility; they were simply good and great workmen who used the materials they had to the best possible advantage for utility as well as for beauty; in short, they did exactly what our modern architects are doing. As far as I can see, even the creators of a Chartres never sacrificed utility for beauty.

The tresses we admire were to strengthen the walls; they were not added for beauty's sake.

The alluring arches were necessary to hold up the roof; they were not designed first for beauty's sake.

The windows were small that the wall might be strong and that defense might be easier.

To ape these features of an older architecture in a day when we may build vast and soaring buildings, around a steel skeleton, when we may have safety and strength with a thin wall of brick, when we may substitute aluminum and light alloys for the bronze and cast iron of an earlier time, when we may make walls almost wholly of glass that give us access to the health-giving rays of the sun, is sheer pedantry and ancestor worship.

If we keep our eye at once upon utility and beauty, while taking full advantage of the latest knowledge of structural materials and design, we shall do for our time what the cathedral builders did for theirs.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

CLEANUP DAYS

When things get very messy we have to have cleanup days. Of course it would be better not to get so messy but then we do and all that is left after that is to do the cleaning up.

But the burden of the task should not be placed on the children.

Whenever the Women's club decides on a crusade of cleanup they descend upon the children. They want the children to learn to keep the streets clean. They ask that schools teach the children not to litter the streets. "Every Monday morning our streets and parks are an unsightly mess because of the torn and scattered newspapers. Impress upon all the children that they are not to scatter their papers about. Get them to talk to their parents about it. All of us must cooperate in this matter of cleanliness."

Let's see. How many of the newspapers scattered about have been discarded by children? How many elementary school children, especially those in primary schools,
read and toss away newspapers?
High school children do not litter parks and streets with newspapers for the same very good reason.

The children might be accused of throwing fruit skins on the streets but most of that is done by the adults. Children eat most of their meals under supervision of one kind or another and that takes care of the refuse.

It is right to teach children to keep streets and parks clean. It is part of the civic courses throughout the grades and the teachers do not neglect their task. It is the children and their teachers who do most of the prevention work in this department of social service. Instead of calling the children to refrain from littering the city we should be calling upon the grown-ups to help the children in their work of maintaining its cleanliness.

Is the street cleaning department adequate? Are the men well paid and is their equipment up to date?
Are the ordinances for cleanliness enforced? Who litters the streets and who is checking the offenders?
Who, for instance, heaps refuse and junk and garbage in vacant lots and who checks that very important matter? Who does the dry sweeping? Who is it that sits on the sidewalk? Not the children I can assure you.

The city and the village alike should be clean. And the children ought to be taught to help maintain that cleanliness as an essential part of their training for citizenship. But the grownups are the ones who do the mischief and it is the grownups who need the prodding.

Every vacant lot ought to be clean for the use of children. I would remit certain taxes for the vacant lots that were kept in shape for children's play. I would publish the names of the street cleaning department people who kept their districts in good shape and give them a bonus and an honor stripe.
I would place the responsibility for the dirty places where it belongs and reward those who attend to the duty of cleaning up. Example is better than much preaching.

PENN'S TREATY

On June 23, 1683, William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, who came to this country from England to "found a free and virtuous state, in which the people should rule themselves," signed a treaty with the Indians at Shikamaxon which insured a lasting friendship with them.

Penn, an ardent Quaker, had obtained from the king an extensive tract of land in America in lieu of a claim of 16,000 pounds against the government which he had inherited from his father. This territory, which, in the royal patent, was called Pennsylvania, Penn resolved to make a home for his coreligionists.

Soon after arriving in America,
Penn took possession of the territory and laid out a site for a new capital, which he named Philadelphia. A short time later he made his treaty with the Indians, a move which spared the Quaker settlers the horrors of Indian warfare which befell some of the other American settlements.

Not only Quakers, but persecuted members of other religious sects, soon sought refuge in Penn's new colony, where from the first,

the principle of toleration was established by law. The settlement made such progress that when Penn returned to England in 1684, he left behind him a prosperous colony of 7000 inhabitants.

NEIGHBOR'S INFLUENCE

"I must say that you keep your lawn in excellent condition."
"Yes, it's better now that the Robinsons have a new lawn-mower.
The one they lent us last year was a perfect disgrace."—The Humorist.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

DOCTOR: You must drink a glass of hot water every morning.
PATIENT: I do that now, but they call it coffee in our boarding house.—Nebelspalter, Zurich.

THE TEST

A: Your maid plays the violin. Has she got a good ear?
B: Oh, yes; it'll fit any keyhole in the house.—Answers.
